Ohio Seeks Bank Robber's Return

Youth Describes Holdup

Took Train To Florida

Ohio law enforcement officials today pushed their efforts to have Paul Boyes, 17. returned from Florida to this state to face trial in the robbery of the North Fairfield bank June 13.

The youth was arrested in Miami, Fla., yesterday as a "suspicious person."

When $680 in cash was found on his person, Boyes, a Rittman resident, admitted participation in the bank robbery. He named his companion as James Perry, 55, of Rittman.

He denied, however, that the $680 was part of the loot from the robbery. Boyes claimed he won it gambling and that he had abandoned his share of the cash stolen from the Huron county bank when he and Perry split up at Wooster.

Boyes told Florida officers he met his accomplice at a Pittsburgh pool hall.

He said he asked the bank's cashier, C. A. Leak, to change a small bill and when he turned around both men drew guns. Boyes said he then went to the front of the bank to act as lookout while Perry scooped up the cash.

FLEES ON TRAIN

They fled towards Wooster in Boyes' brother's car, then abandoned it as they fled after encountering a police roadblock. He added that he and Perry split up there and he made his way to Miami on a train.

A warrant issued in Norwalk for the arrest of Boyes was sent by air mail to Miami last night, according to Sheriff Harry Broome of Huron county.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Della Watts of Rittman is being held at Wooster under $1,500 bond, charged with harboring and concealing James Perry. Her son, Millard, made bond on the same charge and was released.

No trace of Perry has been found since he allegedly contacted Mrs. Watts at Rittman shortly after the bank robbery.

'Pressure' Irks Senate

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Some resentment smouldered in the Senate today against the state department's pressure for action on a $1,130,000,000 arms-for-Europe program.

Certain Senate leaders said privately the administration is asking for too much too fast — without regard to the political "timing" of the requests.

There has been talk of President Truman will send the arms aid plan to Congress before the Senate has given its approval to the North Atlantic treaty.

Secretary of State Acheson has told Congress the arms program must be approved at this session to maintain the United States' "firm policy" against Russia.

One Senator said: "The real value of the treaty is that it marshalls the vast military, industrial and spiritual power of the United States against aggression. The value of that cannot be calculated in dollars.

"But the administration comes along and puts the emphasis on a figure of $1,000,000,000.

It's absurd to shift the emphasis to the equipment which will be distributed among 11 pact nations. The arms program is being given an importance completely out of relation to its value."

'48 Fire Loss Hits New High For Ohio

COLUMBUS — (UP) — Fire losses in Ohio during 1948 set a new high of $25,480,564 and are expected to go even higher this year, State Fire Marshall Harry J. Callan reported today.

Callan said that 22,200 fires were reported last year. He said fire losses so far this year have already approached the $15,000,000 mark.

Denies Charges

LANCASTER — (AP) — Mayor Fred Von Stein denied last night he had ever told former Police Captain Lawrence F. Bauer to "leave gambling alone."

Von Stein took the witness stand as the first rebuttal witness in the appeal hearing of Captain Bauer from his dismissal.

The hearing was conducted before the Lancaster Civil Service commission.

The mayor also denied a statement attributed to him by Bauer during the former officer's testimony. Bauer had testified that Von Stein told him:

"There always was gambling and there always will be gambling."

Attorneys for Bauer and the mayor exchanged verbal tiffs several times while Von Stein was on the witness stand.

Three policemen. Lt. Frank Kelsey, Lt. Ralph Goodyear and Patrolman Charles Zollars also refuted part of Bauer's testimony.

They testified that it was not "general knowledge" in the police department that gambling was to be left alone.

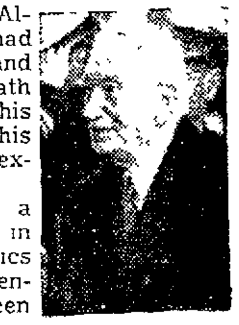
Bauer is one of several Lancaster policemen suspended by Chief Sam H. Hutsler after the officers had filed charges against Hutsler and Lt. Everett J. Brown accusing them of extortion.

The commission last night also denied an appeal by Lt. Brown to have the charges against him dismissed.

Premier of Greece Dies

ATHENS —(AP)— Themistokles Sophoulis, premier of Greece, died today.

He was 88 years old. Death occurred at his summer residence. Although he had been ill and was near death last fall, his death at this time was unexpected.



Souphoulis

Sophoulis, a key figure in Greek politics for a half century, had been premier since Sept. 7, 1947, despite the turmoil of Greek politics occasioned by the civil war with the Communist guerillas in the north.

He weathered the most recent political storm only two months ago, and this after suffering a severe heart attack which had him bedridden for several months.

The venerable leader of the liberal party had been an important cog in the Truman doctrine, under which the aid of the United States went to Greece in her civil war and to Turkey, under the shadow of the Russian bear.

Denies Approval of Radio Transaction

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A Communications commission examiner recommended today that Crosley Broadcasting corporation be denied permission to buy the radio properties of WHAS incorporation at Louisville, Ky. The WHAS properties, owned by the Courier - Journal and Louisville Times company, consist of standard, FM, television, experimental and remote pick-up stations.

Women Asked To Aid Drive

Judge Calls For Detention Home

Richland county farm women were enlisted yesterday in the campaign for a juvenile detention home.

Probate-Juvenile Judge Stuart H. Cramer, speaking before members of the Farm Bureau Home and Community committee, urged them to "remind county commissioners it is their legal, if not moral, obligation to provide suitable detention quarters for the county's juveniles."

"The people of Richland county should bow their heads in shame for permitting children brought into juvenile court to be housed in the city and county jails during the investigation period," Judge Cramer told the group.

He described the deplorable condition of his courtroom, which he termed "wholly and entirely inadequate", and then added, "and the commissioners know it!"

After the session Judge Cramer took the women on a conducted tour of his quarters in the courthouse, as well as to the present "detention home quarters" in the Richland county jail.

Judge Cramer challenged the women to have their husbands "plow their fields with a crooked stick and try to get the same results as with modern mechanized equipment.

Fire Hits U. S. Navy

Bar Police From 'Secret' Building

WASHINGTON —(AP)— A top-secret naval building always under heavy guard today was the center of a three-alarm fire that also threatened a row of large munitions warehouses.

One man familiar with the navy installation said if the flames had spread to the warehouses just a few feet away, "the entire southeastern part of Washington would have blown up."

The area is considered so secret that shore patrolmen with drawn revolvers kept even Washington police, including the chief of police, from entering.

The navy refused any immediate estimate of damage, explanation of the cause of the fire, or to tell what was in building 13 of the naval research magazine.

A reporter from the Washington Times-Herald said, however, that the two-story building was completely gutted.

The fire center is located just below the Anacostia naval base. The area is not heavily populated.

Charged In Slaying

STEUBENVILLE — (UP) — A first degree murder charge was filed today against Andrew Stanko, 44, charged with shooting his wife after a domestic quarrel while their 15-year-old daughter, Betty Lou, watched.

Weatherman Has Good News For Picnickers

Hot, Clear Week End Promised

A hot and sunny week end is in store for the Mansfield area and most of the nation. The weatherman predicted temperatures will average from six to eight degrees above normal, with little or no rain in prospect before Tuesday.

The thermometer is expected to range between 82 and 84 degrees for the next few days, with low readings in the low sixties, the forecaster said.

He said there is a possibility that some spots may get some showers or thundershowers, but the fall will be light.

The Columbus weather bureau reported that growing crops and pastures have shown marked improvement as a result of the recent rains, but pointed out there still may be considerable loss of oats at harvest because of the straw being too short in areas where the rainfall was light.

Mansfield was one of the coolest spots in the state Thursday with the temperature at 84. Canton reported the same reading, but in Chesapeake, O., the thermometer registered 91.

In the east more hot, sticky weather was forecast and experts said the new heat wave would intensify the North Atlantic multi-million dollar drought.

The weather bureau there withdrew its promise of a few scattered showers for the parched area. It said clouds had dissipated and no rain was in sight for the entire week end.

New York marked the 29th day of its worst drought in 41 years, and worried city officials appealed again for less water consumption.

NO PRIVACY FOR A LADY—When Officer Kenneth Booth responded to a report that a couple of nudists were cavorting around a backyard in Los Angeles he never thought the "case" would end like this. The temperature stood at a scorching 97 and its a tossup as to whether the look on his face is of disgust at the "case" or of envy at the cool appearance of Terry Ann Goldman and Dickie Watson. No arrests were made and the nudists continued to caper.

Mosberg 'Doesn't Know'

Bookie Joint Will Move, Says Report

Max Mosberg, well-known Mansfield gambling impresario, denied knowing this morning that he is planning to move his bookie joint early Sunday.

The move, if it comes off, could be classed as a transfer of one of Mansfield's older "business' establishments since the bookie has operated with only minor police interference for nearly two decades at 12½ South Main street.

An apparently well-informed source said that the bookie would be moved to a new address on Central Park, still within three blocks of city hall.

It was also reported that the crap game which has operated in an upstairs room across Central Park on North Park street will be consolidated with the horse book in the new location.

The move according to the informant is scheduled to take place after the close of "business" Saturday night, presumably around 3 a. m. Sunday.

New location for the gambling joint will reportedly be above a pool room on South Park street.

Reason for the move, according to the informant, is that the owner of the property at 12½ South Park street declined to permit gambling operations on the premises any longer.

Property owners are liable under the law for penalties in gambling convictions.

There seems small likelihood of any police move against Mosberg, however, since his bookie has operated openly ever since Police Chief Jesse Schwab mysteriously lifted his gambling ban a year ago last April with the obvious backing of Mayor Roy W. Vaughn. Numbers rackets and poker games also operate openly.

Reached by telephone today, Mosberg's only comment on the report of the move was, "I don't know anything about it."

Predict OK On Housing

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Amid signs they had overestimated the strength of a southern revolt, Democratic leaders today boosted the margin by which they expect the House to pass a trimmed-down housing bill.

Rep. Priest of Tennessee, the assistant Democratic floor leader, said after counting noses the measure will sail through the House with 40 to 50 votes to spare

The House begins balloting on amendments today, after a long and bitter debate. The final showdown on the bill probably will not occur until next week.

Republican opposition kept up a running battle against the legislation yesterday with more shouts that it is a drift to "socialism" and "economic slavery" and would imperil the financial position of the government.

Franklin D Roosevelt jr., speaking for the first time as a member of Congress, disputed that. Passage of the bill, he said, would be a blow to both socialism and communism.

Driver Questioned In Teter Case

A Decatur, Ill., truck driver today told Richland county Sheriff E. P. Long that he has not seen 14-year-old Inez J. "Pat" Teter of Lexington, since he let her out of his truck the night she disappeared from her home, May 25.

William Ogden, 31, who admitted he picked the girl up along Lexington avenue road about 10 p. m. the night she disappeared, told the officers the last he saw her she was walking toward Central park.

Ogden was apprehended in Dayton Wednesday and returned to Mansfield by Richland county sheriff's officers for questioning after Lexington residents told Sheriff E. P. Long the girl was last seen accepting a ride in his truck.

Since his return to Mansfield Ogden has been charged with aiding and abetting a minor to leave home and is scheduled to be arraigned in juvenile court in the near future.

Meanwhile, sheriff's offices plan to continue questioning the Illinois man, who claims he proceeded to Cleveland and Lima after letting the missing girl out of his truck here.

The Teter girl was described as being five feet seven inches tall, weighing 120 pounds. Because she is larger than the average 14-year-old girl, her mother, Mrs M. J. Teter, said she could easily be mistaken for a girl of 17 or 18 years.

When last seen the girl was wearing a red dress with buttons down the front, and black and white saddle shoes, her mother told the sheriff.

California Freezes Blamed For Boost

Orange, Lemon Prices Go Up With Temperature

Those cool glasses of homemade lemonade and orangeade are getting almost as costly as champagne.

Large California oranges are selling at some Mansfield stores for as much as a dollar and a half a dozen. Some of the stores are asking nine cents each for medium-sized lemons.

Grocers said the heavy freezes and crop losses in California last winter accounted for the price boost. Hot weather and the resultant heavier demand for lemons and oranges also help to push the price up, they said.

Some grocers said they are selling only Florida oranges because of the high price of western fruit.

Medium-sized lemons are being sold at prices ranging from 87 cents to $1.08 a dozen in Mansfield stores, and it was predicted that they will go higher as the hot weather brings a heavier demand.

One Mansfield grocer predicted lemons will be 15 cents each before long, especially if the weather gets hot.

Florida oranges, however, are plentiful, and a smaller juice orange from the southern state is being featured in one Mansfield store at two dozen for 49 cents this weekend.

The manager of a Mansfield grocery said with prices rising weekly on citrus fruits, there has been a big increase in the sales of frozen and concentrated fruit juices, and he predicts a gradual turning to the prepared juices.

Jail Umpires To Thwart Angered Fans

CLARKSVILLE, Tenn. — (UP)—Two Kitty league baseball umpires were locked up in the town jail here last night to protect them from outraged Clarksville Colt fans.

The Colts, a dismal eighth in the Kitty league, were shut out twice by the league-leading Owensboro Oilers. Both scores were 4 to 0.

The Clarksville followers became so enraged at the decisions of Umpire Stanley Lis behind the plate that police had to escort him and the other arbiter, John Cluzeski, out of the park to the jail.

Reds Block New Berlin Rail Move

Refuse To Accept Trains For City

BERLIN — (INS) — Russia balked plans of west sector anti-communist rail strikers to resume service to western Berlin today by refusing to accept trains bound for the city.

The Soviet officials also refused to grant the necessary locomotives to bring some 30 trains, stalled at Potsdam, into the former German capital.

The union, when formally notified by the Soviet action, said it will offer again to move the stalled trains. The union also appealed to the western allies for support.

The attempts to resume traffic to West Berlin on a limited basis is part of a union plan to test, it says, "whether the Soviets really intended to lift the blockade."

The 15,000 rail employes of the Soviet-controlled rail directorate had planned to initiate their "emergency service" yesterday but ran into unexpected opposition from the British. West Berlin police, on British orders, barred the workers from installations, thus preventing a restoration of traffic.

However, at a meeting last night of the U. S., British and French transport officials and leaders of the strikers' union—the UGO — the western allies reportedly agreed to a "test case" to see if the Russians will let the 30-odd trains stalled at Potsdam enter the city with much needed supplies.

The strike leaders have made clear that the emergency traffic plan does not signify an end to their 35-day old walkout. It is being planned merely to bring supplies in, and to see if the Soviets are sincere in their agreement to end the blockade.

Judy Turns To 'Fiction' Characters

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Judith Coplon swore today that a mysterious "Michael" mentioned in one of her famous "purse papers" was a purely fictional character — not a Russian spy.

Miss Coplon said under cross-examination at her spy trial that "Michael" was merely a character in the autobiographical novel she planned to write, and represented no real person.

The ex - government girl stuck to that story under a whip-lashing attack by Prosecutor John M. Kelley, who has already dragged from her intimate details of her love life.

She said the name Michael was inspired by the Archangel Michael in the Bible's Book of Revelations.

Mayor On Leave, Goes To Prison

BELLEFONTAINE —(INS) — Roy F. Howell, 43, on leave as Mayor of Russell's Point, will begin a one-to-10 year sentence in the Ohio penitentiary today or tomorrow.

Howell changed his plea yesterday just before his trial was to begin, and said he was guilty of embezzling $217 from the Indian Lake village. The mayor promised to make the restitution before July 1.

Little Success In Talks

Lewis, Owners Deadlocked

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. — (UP) — The nation's 480,000 coal miners prepared to begin their annual 10-day vacation after today's shift, with John L. Lewis and the operators deadlocked on negotiations for a new contract.

As Lewis and northern and western operators began their second bargaining session here, it was a question just when the miners would return to their jobs.

The current soft coal contract expires next Thursday while members of the United Mine Workers are on vacation.

Operators of the western and northern mines were confident, however, that the miners would be back to work on July 5. They pointed out that the Taft-Hartley law compels the union to keep working until Aug. 14, 60 days after it filed a notice of contract termination.

But the miners have traditionally followed the policy of "no contract, no work" and Lewis refused to confirm or deny that they would return to the pits after their holiday.

Lewis told newsmen they "can assume anything."

During their 10-day vacation, the miners will draw $48,000,000 in pay at the rate of $100 per man.

Lewis began formal discussions yesterday with operators representing an annual production rate of 240,000,000 tons, about half the nation's soft coal production.

There was little, if any progress, at the first session. Lewis and the operators promptly became snarled in procedural difficulties.

In order to expand the parleys, the union and the operators agreed to invite other soft coal producers to send representatives to the current talks. The invitations represented a victory for Lewis.

It is known that Lewis wants to negotiate a wage agreement covering the entire industry. This practice was begun in 1945 and the union's 1948 convention urged that it be continued.

Besides these conferences however, the United Mine Workers are also bargaining for new contracts with U. S. Steel corporation, operators of a group of "captive" mines and with the Southern Coal Producers association. The talks with the southerners are being held in nearby Bluefield, W. Va.

The Bluefield negotiations, which have been deadlocked since they began early this month, were suspended without explanation last night until Monday.

Wage Talks Recessed

Contract negotiations between the CIO United Electrical Workers and the Westinghouse Electric corporation at Pittsburgh were adjourned yesterday for two weeks. The wage talks will be resumed in New York July 6, according to the Associated Press.

Joseph T. Hawkins, president, and James Young, first vice president, of Local 711, United Electrical Workers, of the Westinghouse plant here, represented the local at the negotiations.

A company spokesman said Westinghouse representatives "continued to paint a picture of our current business operations in some detail." He indicated wage demands of the 75,000 Westinghouse workers were not under discussion yet.

The union is seeking a "package" increase of $500 a year from Westinghouse and General Electric corporation. It is currently in contract negotiations with GE in New York.

A union representative in the contract session suggested the New York meeting, the Westinghouse official said. The company immediately agreed on the date. Negotiations opened Monday

HONOLULU — (UP) — Seven stevedoring firms and the CIO Longshoremen's union accepted an invitation from acting Gov. Owen E. Long to meet at his office today to explore the possibility of resuming direct negotiations to end Hawaii's eight-week-old maritime strike.

Hiss Employe Testifies

Claims FBI Offered To Buy Typewriter

NEW YORK — (AP) — A former handyman for Alger Hiss testified yesterday the FBI offered him $200 for an old typewriter which the defense produced Wednesday.

Raymond Catlett, 27, Negro handyman who worked for the Hisses in Washington, D.C., so piqued the prosecutor he began shouting questions until defense counsel objected.

The prosecutor, Assistant U. S. Attorney Thomas F. Murphy became annoyed with Catlett's reference to what Murphy called "this alleged $200 offer."

The battered old typewriter became a silent witness for Hiss at his perjury trial. Catlett and his mother, who served the Hiss family as a maid, related part of the machine's history to bolster Hiss' defense.

The prosecution charges an old Woodstock was used by Mrs. Hiss in 1937 and 1938 to copy State department documents for transmission to Whittaker chambers. Chambers, courier for a prewar Soviet spy ring, charges Mrs. Hiss copied the documents and that Hiss gave him the copies.

Under cross examination Catlett said he helped trace the old typewriter. He said Hiss' brother, Donald, had given him "about $40" to offer to anyone who could find the machine.

Murphy then brought out that Catlett was interviewed by FBI agents and Catlett said, "The agents said they would pay me $200 or more if I got the typewriter."

"What agent told you that?" thundered Murphy.

"One of the agents," Catlett replied mildly.

"What agent?" demanded Murphy.

"Jones," said Catlett.

With Murphy's voice rising until it echoed in the federal court room and Catlett answering calmly, this questioning developed:

Murphy — "He's a big tall fellow, isn't he?"

Catlett — "Yes, sir."

Murphy — "Who told you to say that $200 story?"

Catlett — "Mr. Jones."

Murphy — "Who told you to say it now?"

Catlett — "Mr. Jones said it."

Asked if he had told one of the defense counsel, Edward C. McLean, of the alleged FBI agent's offer, Catlett said he had.

Murphy then shouted several questions in an attempt to learn whether Catlett told McLean of the offer last May 13. Catlett replied it might have been May 13 or 15. But he did not fix the date.

Murphy roared: "On your oath as you sit here, you say Mr. Jones said that?"

"That's right," Catlett said.

Woldman Scraps Higher Wage Scale For Restaurant Workers

COLUMBUS — (UP) — Ohio Industrial Relations Director A. A. Woldman yesterday threw out a recent recommendation for higher minimum wages for women and minors working in Ohio hotels and restaurants because of a legal technicality.

The action was taken, Woldman, said, because one member of the nine-member board lives and votes in Covington, Ky., across the Ohio river from Cincinnati.

He explained that although Mrs. Fay Rothring worked in Cincinnati as business manager of the Waitresses Union 276 (AFL) her legal residence was Covington.

The industrial relations director said he would name another board as soon as possible.

The legality of the board was challenged by the Ohio State Restaurant association, Woldman said, even though it was satisfied with the board's recommendation.

The board, whose recommendations had been accepted by Woldman, recommended that new minimums range from 27 cents an hour for service employes to 37 cents an hour for non-service employes.

Current minimums, established in 1937, range from 13 and one half cents an hour for service workers to 21 cents an hour for non-service workers.

Seek Answer To Disputes

ST. LOUIS —(INS)— A 15-member council on human relations has been appointed to study inter-racial problems in St. Louis.

Head of the group, which is scheduled to meet in the next few days, is Russell L. Dearmont, a lawyer and board chairman of the eighth federal reserve district.

Appointment of the council by Mayor Joseph Darst to replace a 72-member race relations commission grew out of Tuesday's fighting between white and Negro teen-agers after a segregation ban was lifted at the city's swimming pools and playgrounds.

Darst declared:

"The purpose of the council is to advise the city government on matters affecting inter-racial activity and it will work to give St. Louisans a chance to develop their talents without being limited by discrimination."

The mayor announced, meanwhile, that he was considering construction of a new outdoor swimming pool for Negroes.

Nazi's Yacht In Naval Race

NORFOLK, Va. -- (UP) -- A trim sailing craft, once the pride of the nazi fleet admiral Karl Doenitz, is being made ready here for a race from California to Pearl Harbor in July as the official United States Navy entry.

The yawl East Wind, built in Bremen in 1939 and seized as a prize of war in 1945, will carry a crew of 14 under command of Capt. John A. Holbrook. Here the vessel is being stripped of excess equipment for additional speed.

It will be towed to San Pedro, Calif., through the Panama Canal while its mast and rigging are shipped overland. The [illegible] yawl has a length of [illegible] feet, a 17-foot beam and a 2,070 square foot sail area.

'Trap' Victim Gets Refund

PITTSBURGH — (UP) — H. Ross Strohecker, 36, Youngstown, had a $13.50 fine refunded yesterday after lodging a protest against a squire who conducted traffic court by the side of the road.

Strohecker told Allegheny county Judge Benjamin Lencher that he received no information, summons or formal hearing when he was arrested June 13 for driving 36 miles an hour in a 25-mile-per-hour zone.

He said he was taken to Squire John W. Warren, of Ross township, who was sitting in an automobile along the highway. There, he said, the squire "heard the case" and levied the fine.

Board Sees Curtailment In Future Business Spending

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The Federal Reserve board said yesterday that it expects businessmen to curtail still further their spending on equipment and property during the next six months.

The board reviewed the investment situation in an article on "The Financial Position of Business" in its monthly bulletin.

It said that the recent downturn in the nation's economy has brought with it a decline in business investment. The article declared:

"The rapid growth in dollar volume of business inventories, which had persisted since the end of the war, has ceased. Expenditures on new plants and equipment have declined.

"The decline thus far has been largely seasonal, but businessmen anticipate a further decline in such expenditures in the second half of the year, which is a period of seasonal rise."

The board said a "major factor" in the expected decrease is the "completion, or approaching completion, of many of the postwar programs of expansion and modernization."

Generally, however, the board said it believes "the over-all financial position of business corporations is still strong by prewar standards, even though it has continued to recede slowly from the unusually liquid position prevailing at the end of the war."

Polio Precautions

DO NOT SWIM WATER IMPURE

Pomeroy School To Get Football Field By 1950

POMEROY — (INS) — Pomeroy high school will probably have its first football field finished for the 1950 season — the first year since it started football in 1920.

Since then, all home games have been played at Middleport.

The grading for the new gridiron, requiring removal of some 32,000 cubic yards of earth and material, is taking place on the site of the fabulous V. P. Horton mansion.

The house, with its third-floor ballroom, 11 cisterns and large well, is being razed to provide ground for the new field.

Hand-cut brick, estimated to be worth $100,000 at today's prices, has been torn from the building and will be used in constructing bleechers.

Cincinnati Reds Sign Two 'Kids'

CINCINNATI — (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds announced today that it has signed a couple of kid ball players for its Tulsa team.

They are Wyla H. Padgett, Dayton, O. shortstop, and Hubert O. Morris, a right handed pitcher who lives in Birmingham, Ala.

Gabe. Paul, secretary of the Reds, said Tulsa will option the 17-year-old Morris and the 18-year-old Padgett to Lockport in the pony league.

Dutch Harrison Tops Canadian Golf Meet

TORONTO — (AP) — E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, the Little Rock, Ark., pro, today led a field of 100 qualifiers by four strokes into the home stretch of the Canadian Open Golf championship.

The slow-easy-going former army sergeant had 133 for the first two 18-hole rounds — a record-breaking 66 Wednesday and 67 yesterday.

Ends First Half

AKRON, OHIO — The third annual running of the $2500 ascot special will be in the featured seventh race spot Saturday at Ascot park as the Cleveland-Akron track completes the first half of its 37-day meeting.

Officer Pulls Daredevil Act

YOUNGSTOWN — (INS) — If Paul Mallory, Youngstown's daredevil cop, is sought out by some enterprising cartoonist as the hero of an adventure comic strip, it will come as no surprise.

Mallory, a vice squad patrolman, pulled off a capture as neat as any recorded in crime novels yesterday when he drove his police car in front of an airplane as it was taking off at Youngstown's Bernard airport.

His feat halted the take-off and resulted in the capture of three men who were escaping after an attempted jewelry store hold-up in nearby Campbell.

Truck-Bus Accident Injures 12 Persons

YOUNGSTOWN — (INS) — Twelve persons were hospitalized yesterday in Youngstown as the result of a collision between a steel - laden trailer - truck outfit and a municipal bus.

The two vehicles collided at an east side intersection and the bus, carrying 30 passengers, then swerved into the front of a nearby cafe. None of the injuries was believed serious.

ONE OF MANSFIELD'S MOST PROMINENT RESTAURANTS
No Sounder Investment
No Surer Way to Success

This is neither a second rate business in a second rate location, nor, a second rate business in a first rate location, but a FIRST rate restaurant in a FIRST rate location. Only the possibility of indirectly affecting the steady, prosperous flow of customers prevents us from enthusiastically broadcasting the well-known name of this restaurant. The net profit is more than sufficient to pay for your entire investment in less than two years. Includes all equipment and a sizeable inventory. New lease on the building is obtainable at time of purchase. Several extra storage rooms, roomy basement and fully equipped rear office is included in the lease. The worth and popularity of this refined restaurant is apparent any day of the week. The owner has other out of town business interests which are taxing his available time. All records are available for your inspection. Will sell immediately at an actual sacrifice price. "Exclusive" $25,000.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3 The result is your key number Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Halls Being Fireproofed In Ashland

College Buildings Readied For Fall

ASHLAND — Complete fireproofing and modernization of two Ashland college buildings, Founders Hall and the girls' dormitory, will be rushed to completion before the opening of school Sept. 13 to comply with rulings laid down by the state fire marshal following inspection.

The modernization is part of a program required of many Ohio colleges since the tragic Kenyon college fire.

Founders Hall, housing the chapel and class rooms, will have its antiquated stair well removed and a modern fireproof stairway installed. The chemistry laboratory, housed directly above the chapel, will be moved to the first floor of the more modern library building. Three additional rest rooms will be installed in Founders hall and all wiring completely renewed. Storage rooms in the basement will also be fireproofed to meet state requirements.

At Allen Hall, the girls' dormitory, will have new fireproof stairways, new wiring throughout, and access to the fireproof stairs provided for every occupant.

Dr. Glenn Clayton, president of the college, stated the college would prefer to spend the money on new buildings but the time element leaves no alternative but to do immediate remodeling.

Oil Firms Form Group

Oil company representatives in this area have started plans for setting up a permanent organization to provide information on the oil industry.

Objectives of the new organization were explained by C. Z. Hardwick, of the Ohio Oil company at Findlay at a meeting Wednesday night at the Fairway. Arthur Busch, of the Standard Oil company at Marion, was in charge of the meeting.

Attending the meeting were representatives from nine counties in this area. Charles A. Beard, of the Canfield Oil company here is chairman for Richland county while Earl Massa of the Consumers Petroleum company, is associate chairman.

Others from the county who attended were M. E. Snyder of the Pure Oil company; Marshall Tarr, Charles Young and Roy Williams of the Standard Oil company of Ohio, and Hugh Sutter and Bert Meyer of the Gulf Refining company.

ROYAL HATS IN THE SPOTLIGHT—At the Royal Ascot Race Meet in England, the attractive hats worn by Princess Elizabeth (left) and her sister, Princess Margaret Rose, came in for as much attention as the horses. The king and queen and the Duke of Edinburgh also attended the affair. (International).

Deaths In Area

Body of Man Found Behind Wheel of Car At Mt. Gilead

MT. GILEAD—The body of Lloyd Greenfield, 64, of Marion, was found behind the steering wheel of his auto at 7 p. m. yesterday in a field off State Route 95 by Mrs. Max Smith, who lives nearby. The Smith residence is two and a half miles east of here.

Mrs. Smith had seen the car parked in the field since 10 a. m. yesterday but thought it belonged to some person working in the field. When the car failed to leave in the evening, she investigated and found the body.

Frank Sweeney, Morrow county coroner, said death was due to a heart attack, apparently suffered while Greenfield was driving. Greenfield, an employe of the Betty Zane Corn Products company in Marion, was a former produce dealer in Edison.

Surviving are his widow, Irma; two sons, Frank of Ashley; and Richard, in the Army at Mobile, Ala.; three daughters, Mrs. Robert Wolfinger of Delaware; Mrs. Paul Burchette of Marion; Mrs. Grace Shively of Jamaica, N. Y.; a sister, Mrs. Clark Curl of Edison; brother, Harold of Marion; and five grandchildren.

Services will be at 10 a. m. Monday in Wesleyan Methodist church in Marion of which congregation Mr. Greenfield was a member. Burial will be in Rivercliff cemetery here with the local Craven funeral home in charge of arrangements. Friends may call at the funeral home tonight and at the family home in Marion at 864 Oak Grove street after Saturday noon.

Artist Does Murals For Galion Show

Interior of New Theater Decorated

GALION — Acclaimed as one of the nation's three outstanding artists in mural decorations, Frank A. Lackner of Chicago, is in Galion this week. He arrived with Rex. M. Davis, decorator with the Hans Teichert company of Chicago, specialists in theater interiors.

Lackner, 41, veteran with the U. S. Army engineers during the last war, is a native of Germany. While he learned some of his work on the continent, he has been in the United States for 20 years and has studied at the Art Institute in Chicago, the American Academy, and other schools.

It is fascinating to watch him on a high scaffold as he flourishes his paint brush where he is painting a floral design, some 15 feet high, on the interior walls of Galion's new theater.

With free hand, he sketches his huge design before he dips into his buckets of rich blues and golds and other shades for the desired effect. It took him only a half day to paint a mural approximately 15-feet square.

Lackner's murals are found in many of the country's churches, theaters and night clubs.

A talented portrait painter, Lackner has painted many famous persons. Because of a personal friendship, he did not care to publicize the name of one of Hollwood's stars for whom he painted a famous tourist attraction for years.

Danville Rail Line Reopened

Rail service was restored at Danville late yesterday following the derailment of 17 freight cars. The cars of a Pennsylvania railroad Columbus-to-Canton train tore up 50 yeards of track. Employes worked throughout the day to clear the wreckage and repair the track. The wreck was caused by a broken wheel flange, rail spokesmen said.

The derailed train narrowly missed seriously injuring a woman-telegrapher and her 10-year-old daughter as it crashed into the telegraph building. The mother, Mrs. Ruth Gibbs, and the child, Bonnie Italiano, suffered lacerations on their hands after smashing a window to allow them to crawl out of the building.

One of the cars blocked the door, forcing Mrs. Gibbs and her daughter, who had been sleeping, to break the window to escape.

'DEAD', BUT ALIVE—Larry Page, 4, the "back to life" lad who was struck by a car while playing in the street at Mojave, Calif., and pronounced dead on arrival at a Pasadena, Calif., hospital, leaves the hospital for home, resolved not to play cowboy in the street again. A blood clot halted his heart, and doctors injected a stimulant. Seven minutes later he was alive again, and still is. (INS).

tention quarters for the juveniles and mental cases. The law requires a man to do what is demanded and do it right", he told the group.

Judge Cramer reminded the audience, composed of farm women from most of the townships of the county, that taking crops from a farm for years without putting replacements back into the earth will eventually result in no crops.

Richland county is going to have to start putting out some money soon, after 30 years of no expense in operating the probate and juvenile courts," he said. "The county is going to have to provide a detention home for juvenile delinquents, and not in the city and county jails."

He described the plight of mental cases, and said the number is increasing and will continue to increase. They, too, are housed in the county jail until such time as there is a place for them in one of the three state-operated homes.

"They are placed over the county jail with the drunks and similar prisoners. If they are not too dagnerous, they are placed in the bull-pen, but if the patient is dangerous, he goes into a steel cell, with no outside lights, and there he stays until there is a vacancy in one of the state homes."

"And then we look back with horror on the medieval times when people were confined to dungeons," he said.

He appealed for proper facilities for housing the mental cases which he termed "extremely ill and in need of proper care."

Mrs. Clarence Griebling of Lexington, chairman of the Home and Community committee, presided at the meeting.. Other officers of the group are Mrs. Charles Grunder, Mansfield, R. D. 6, secretary; and Mrs. Rollo Ferrell, Mansfield, R. D. 1, chairman of the legislative committee.

Hoy L. Russell Takes Oath As Probate Judge In Holmes

MILLERSBURG — Hoy L. Russell, local attorney, took the oath as Holmes county probate judge this week. Common Pleas Judge Elmo M. Estill administered the oath to Russell who fills the vacancy caused by the death of Judge F. W. Frankhouser on June 9. The appointment was made by Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

Wayne W. Stillwell, another local attorney, was sworn in as Judge Russell's deputy. Stillwell, twice mayor here, served two terms as prosecuting attorney of Holmes county.

Judge Russell has been active in business and professional circles here for the past 25 years and is senior member of the law firm of Russell and Schuler. Russell long has been active in veteran and fraternal organizations.

In addition to his professional duties he has owned and operated motion-pictures here since 1924. His family includes Blair M. Russell, now manager of the Russells theater, and Mrs. Wilur D. Cox, also of Millersburg, one grandson, Hoy M. Cox, and his father, Manford Russell. Mrs. Russell, who had assisted in operation of the local theater, died in June, 1947.

Area Youth Seeks Missionary Post

PLYMOUTH — Joe Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Moore of Bucyrus, and a former Plymouth resident, will graduate Aug. 5, from Bowling Green State university in Business Administration.

This week he left for New York City regarding plans to serve as a missionary from the Lutheran church in foreign fields.

Galion Tot Contest Set For Pageant

Community Wide Affair Scheduled

GALION — The Tiny Tots contest, a Heise park committee project which is being staged in conjunction with the Fourth of July pageant, "Laff It Off," will be community wide, it was announced today by Grace Thomas, chairman. The contest will start Saturday and continue until the Fourth of July.

Mrs. Thomas said that any one wishing to enter their children may do so by taking two photographs of the child to Bennett's store. Tiny tots, ranging in age from birth to six years, are eligible to be entered.

One picture of the child will appear on display in Bennett's window, and will be labeled with the name of the child and give the name of the business place where votes may be cast. The second picture will be placed on a can in the business place. Pennies in the can will count as votes.

Winners of the contest will be announced at one of the three presentations of the pageant at Heise park. At that time the two highest winners, a boy and a girl, will be crowned king and queen; second highest will be made prince and princess: and the third winners will be introduced as duke and duchess.

In soliciting contestants, Mrs. Thomas is being assisted by members of several groups of the city including the Galion Business and Professional Women's club, the several child conservation groups, Parents' organizations, and civic and fraternal units.

Crowning of the children will be one of the features of the pageant which is being directed by Grace Sullivan of Colorado Springs.

Conserve Water, Plea In Ashland

Mayor Cautions Against Wastage

ASHLAND — Conservation of Ashland's water supply to prevent a shortage during summer months is requested by Mayor Louis Mansfield in a public statement.

By refraining from unnecessary sprinkling and other wastage of water, Ashland can expect to get through the summer without a critical shortage such as last summer when Ashland was almost entirely without water for several days, the mayor stated.

By next year, the city should have an abundance of water with completion of the $350,000 waterworks expansion program now under way.

Addition of new filters and other equipment to process larger quantities of water is expected to provide the city with adequate treated water for years to come.

When water vanished altogether or went down to a mere trickle from Ashland faucets last year, an emergency ban forbade any sprinkling, car washing or other unnecessary uses of water.

GETS MASTER'S DEGREE

GALION — Leo Douglas Brooks, of 245 Walker street, has received a master of letters degree from the Research Bureau of Retail Training at the University of Pittsburgh, according to a news bureau release from the university. He received the B. S. degree from Ashland college in 1946.

Ashland Adds Minister To College Staff

ASHLAND — Rev. Edwin Boardman, pastor at Macalester Memorial Presbyterian church, Torresdale, Philadelphia, Pa., will become acting assistant professor of homeletics at Ashland college theological seminary this fall, it was announced today by President Glenn Clayton.

Rev. Henry Bates, pastor of the Brethren church at Oakville, Ind., will assume the post of assistant professor of Greek and Old Testament at opening of the second semester.

The faculty additions replace Dean M. A. Stuckey and Professor L. E. Lindower who have received sabbatical leaves.

Crawford Grange Aids Attend Bascom Affair

Halls Being Fireproofed In Ashland

College Buildings Readied For Fall

ASHLAND — Complete fireproofing and modernization of two Ashland college buildings, Founders Hall and the girls' dormitory, will be rushed to completion before the opening of school Sept. 13 to comply with rulings laid down by the state fire marshal following inspection.

The modernization is part of a program required of many Ohio colleges since the tragic Kenyon college fire.

Founders Hall, housing the chapel and class rooms, will have its antiquated stair well removed and a modern fireproof stairway installed. The chemistry laboratory, housed directly above the chapel, will be moved to the first floor of the more modern library building. Three additional rest rooms will be installed in Founders hall and all wiring completely renewed. Storage rooms in the basement will also be fireproofed to meet state requirements.

At Allen Hall, the girls' dormitory, will have new fireproof stairways, new wiring throughout, and access to the fireproof stairs provided for every occupant.

Dr. Glenn Clayton, president of the college, stated the college would prefer to spend the money on new buildings but the time element leaves no alternative but to do immediate remodeling.

Oil Firms Form Group

Oil company representatives in this area have started plans for setting up a permanent organization to provide information on the oil industry.

Objectives of the new organization were explained by C. Z. Hardwick, of the Ohio Oil company at Findlay at a meeting Wednesday night at the Fairway. Arthur Busch, of the Standard Oil company at Marion, was in charge of the meeting.

Attending the meeting were representatives from nine counties in this area. Charles A. Beard, of the Canfield Oil company here is chairman for Richland county while Earl Massa of the Consumers Petroleum company, is associate chairman.

Others from the county who attended were M. E. Snyder of the Pure Oil company; Marshall Tarr, Charles Young and Roy Williams of the Standard Oil company of Ohio, and Hugh Sutter and Bert Meyer of the Gulf Refining company.

ROYAL HATS IN THE SPOTLIGHT—At the Royal Ascot Race Meet in England, the attractive hats worn by Princess Elizabeth (left) and her sister, Princess Margaret Rose, came in for as much attention as the horses. The king and queen and the Duke of Edinburgh also attended the affair. (International).

Deaths In Area

Body of Man Found Behind Wheel of Car At Mt. Gilead

MT. GILEAD—The body of Lloyd Greenfield, 64, of Marion, was found behind the steering wheel of his auto at 7 p. m. yesterday in a field off State Route 95 by Mrs. Max Smith, who lives nearby. The Smith residence is two and a half miles east of here.

Mrs. Smith had seen the car parked in the field since 10 a. m. yesterday but thought it belonged to some person working in the field. When the car failed to leave in the evening, she investigated and found the body.

Frank Sweeney, Morrow county coroner, said death was due to a heart attack, apparently suffered while Greenfield was driving. Greenfield, an employe of the Betty Zane Corn Products company in Marion, was a former produce dealer in Edison.

Surviving are his widow, Irma; two sons, Frank of Ashley; and Richard, in the Army at Mobile, Ala.; three daughters, Mrs. Robert Wolfinger of Delaware; Mrs. Paul Burchette of Marion; Mrs. Grace Shiveiy of Jamaica, N. Y.; a sister, Mrs. Clark Curl of Edison; brother, Harold of Marion; and five grandchildren.

Services will be at 10 a. m. Monday in Wesleyan Methodist church in Marion of which congregation Mr. Greenfield was a member. Burial will be in Rivercliff cemetery here with the local Craven funeral home in charge of arrangements. Friends may call at the funeral home tonight and at the family home in Marion at 864 Oak Grove street after Saturday noon.

Artist Does Murals For Galion Show

Interior of New Theater Decorated

GALION — Acclaimed as one of the nation's three outstanding artists in mural decorations, Frank A. Lackner of Chicago, is in Galion this week. He arrived with Rex. M. Davis, decorator with the Hans Teichert company of Chicago, specialists in theater interiors.

Lackner, 41, veteran with the U. S. Army engineers during the last war, is a native of Germany. While he learned some of his work on the continent, he has been in the United States for 20 years and has studied at the Art Institute in Chicago, the American Academy, and other schools.

It is fascinating to watch him on a high scaffold as he flourishes his paint brush where he is painting a floral design, some 15 feet high, on the interior walls of Galion's new theater.

With free hand, he sketches his huge design before he dips into his buckets of rich blues and golds and other shades for the desired effect. It took him only a half day to paint a mural approximately 15-feet square.

Lackner's murals are found in many of the country's churches, theaters and night clubs.

A talented portrait painter, Lackner has painted many famous persons. Because of a personal friendship, he did not care to publicize the name of one of Hollwood's stars for whom he painted a famous tourist attraction for years.

Danville Rail Line Reopened

Rail service was restored at Danville late yesterday following the derailment of 17 freight cars. The cars of a Pennsylvania railroad Columbus-to-Canton train tore up 50 yeards of track. Employes worked throughout the day to clear the wreckage and repair the track. The wreck was caused by a broken wheel flange, rail spokesmen said.

The derailed train narrowly missed seriously injuring a woman telegrapher and her 10-year-old daughter as it crashed into the telegraph building. The mother, Mrs. Ruth Gibbs, and the child, Bonnie Italiano, suffered lacerations on their hands after smashing a window to allow them to crawl out of the building.

One of the cars blocked the door, forcing Mrs. Gibbs and her daughter, who had been sleeping, to break the window to escape.

'DEAD', BUT ALIVE—Larry Page, 4, the "back to life" lad who was struck by a car while playing in the street at Mojave, Calif., and pronounced dead on arrival at a Pasadena, Calif., hospital, leaves the hospital for home, resolved not to play cowboy in the street again. A blood clot halted his heart, and doctors injected a stimulant. Seven minutes later he was alive again, and still is. (INS).

tention quarters for the juveniles and mental cases. The law requires a man to do what is demanded and do it right", he told the group.

Judge Cramer reminded the audience, composed of farm women from most of the townships of the county, that taking crops from a farm for years without putting replacements back into the earth will eventually result in no crops.

Richland county is going to have to start putting out some money soon, after 30 years of no expense in operating the probate and juvenile courts," he said. "The county is going to have to provide a detention home for juvenile delinquents, and not in the city and county jails."

He described the plight of mental cases, and said the number is increasing and will continue to increase. They, too, are housed in the county jail until such time as there is a place for them in one of the three state-operated homes.

"They are placed over the county jail with the drunks and similar prisoners. If they are not too dagnerous, they are placed in the bull-pen, but if the patient is dangerous, he goes into a steel cell, with no outside lights, and there he stays until there is a vacancy in one of the state homes."

"And then we look back with horror on the medieval times when people were confined to dungeons," he said.

He appealed for proper facilities for housing the mental cases which he termed "extremely ill and in need of proper care."

Mrs. Clarence Griebling of Lexington, chairman of the Home and Community committee, presided at the meeting.. Other officers of the group are Mrs. Charles Grunder, Mansfield, R. D. 6, secretary; and Mrs. Rollo Ferrell, Mansfield, R. D. 1, chairman of the legislative committee.

Hoy L. Russell Takes Oath As Probate Judge In Holmes

MILLERSBURG — Hoy L. Russell, local attorney, took the oath as Holmes county probate judge this week. Common Pleas Judge Elmo M. Estill administered the oath to Russell who fills the vacancy caused by the death of Judge F. W. Frankhouser on June 9. The appointment was made by Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

Wayne W. Stillwell, another local attorney, was sworn in as Judge Russell's deputy. Stillwell, twice mayor here, served two terms as prosecuting attorney of Holmes county.

Judge Russell has been active in business and professional circles here for the past 25 years and is senior member of the law firm of Russell and Schuler. Russell long has been active in veteran and fraternal organizations.

In addition to his professional duties he has owned and operated motion-pictures here since 1924. His family includes Blair M. Russell, now manager of the Russells theater, and Mrs. Wilbur D. Cox, also of Millersburg, one grandson, Hoy M. Cox, and his father, Manford Russell. Mrs. Russell, who had assisted in operation of the local theater, died in June, 1947.

Area Youth Seeks Missionary Post

PLYMOUTH — Joe Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Moore of Bucyrus, and a former Plymouth resident, will graduate Aug. 5, from Bowling Green State university in Business Administration.

This week he left for New York City regarding plans to serve as a missionary from the Lutheran church in foreign fields.

Galion Tot Contest Set For Pageant

Community Wide Affair Scheduled

GALION — The Tiny Tots contest, a Heise park committee project which is being staged in conjunction with the Fourth of July pageant, "Laff It Off," will be community wide, it was announced today by Grace Thomas, chairman. The contest will start Saturday and continue until the Fourth of July.

Mrs. Thomas said that any one wishing to enter their children may do so by taking two photographs of the child to Bennett's store. Tiny tots, ranging in age from birth to six years, are eligible to be entered.

One picture of the child will appear on display in Bennett's window, and will be labeled with the name of the child and give the name of the business place where votes may be cast. The second picture will be placed on a can in the business place. Pennies in the can will count as votes.

Winners of the contest will be announced at one of the three presentations of the pageant at Heise park. At that time the two highest winners, a boy and a girl, will be crowned king and queen; second highest will be made prince and princess; and the third winners will be introduced as duke and duchess.

In soliciting contestants, Mrs. Thomas is being assisted by members of several groups of the city including the Galion Business and Professional Women's club, the several child conservation groups, Parents' organizations, and civic and fraternal units.

Crowning of the children will be one of the features of the pageant which is being directed by Grace Sullivan of Colorado Springs.

Honeymoon Over For Marshall Plan, Pact

Before they can resume their discussions with the Soviets in the autumn the western powers among themselves have serious and very difficult work to do.

The honeymoon period of the Marshall plan is over. And the Atlantic pact, after it has been ratified, will have to be supplemented by new arrangements in order to make it relevant to the developments in Germany.

Both Marshall plan and Atlantic pact have been successful—the one in averting a collapse and unmanageable distress in western Europe, the other in reducing the danger and the fear of military aggression.

But the satisfaction we are entitled to take in these achievements must be tempered with the knowledge that both the Marshall plan and the Atlantic pact are unfinished business.

They are unfinished not merely in the sense that they require continued support from Congress and the people but in the harder sense that both are elementary and now quite inadequate for the period into which we have entered.

At the Pilgrims dinner in London last week, held in his honor, Thomas K. Finletter said, in conformity with the law which he has administered with such distinction and grace, that "the prime objective of closing the dollar gap by June, 1952, must dominate all our policies which relate to the recovery program."

But while Finletter was speaking, Washington and London were worrying each other over the Anglo - Argentine trade agreement.

This agreement, which Hoffman told the Senate was a "dreadful" departure from the American ideas of open trade, is the direct and, from the British point of view, unavoidable result of making the closing of the dollar gap "dominate" all British policies.

The core of the agreement is that the British are to buy Argentine meat for four years, paying in sterling, and the Argentine is to use this sterling to buy British, instead of American, oil. The agreement means that Britain will not buy meat and that the Argentine will not by oil from American producers.

But this arrangement, which unquestionably discriminates against American producers, is due to the fact that neither Britain nor the Argentine has, or has any good prospects of earning, the dollars to buy meat and oil from America.

Britain has to discriminate against producers who can be paid only in dollars that she does not have.

So if, as Congress has laid it down, the dollar gap is to be closed by June 1952, then by 1952 the area in which men buy and sell in dollars will be closed off from the area in which men, who lack dollars, do their buying and their selling.

The Anglo - Argentine agreement illustrates sharply and vividly the basic truth that the Marshall plan, as now conceived and operating will not and cannot restore world trade or unite the free nations in a prosperous economy. The tendency is the other way—towards separatism, restrictionism, economic isolationism and, is the productive capacity of Germany and Japan increases, towards cutthroat competition.

To reverse this sinister tendency will call for measures as far-reaching and as bold as the original Marshall plan itself. And we shall not have much time in which to plan, negotiate, and agree upon those measures. Nor can we afford to indulge in prolonged self - congratulation about the limited successes we have achieved. The acid test of Western co - operation is ahead of us and still to be met.

The problem is not insoluble. But it is immensely difficult. It will not be safe to risk another meeting of the council of foreign ministers without a satisfactory answer to the problem.

Vaughan Gets Medal

WASHINGTON — (INS) — A House Armed Services subcommittee has reversed itself and voted six to one to permit Major General Harry H. Vaughan President Truman's military aide, to accept a medal from Argentina.

COUNSELOR—James V. Hunt leaves his office at Washington, after the senate investigating committee announced an inquiry on government contracts, based on a report which named Hunt as a "management counselor." Chairman Clyde Hoey (D-NC) of the committee quoted the New York Herald Tribune as reporting that Paul Grindle, Massachusetts businessman, said he paid $1,000 fee to Hunt for help in getting government contracts.

Take Atom 'Souvenirs'

WASHINGTON —(UP)—Chairman Brien McMahon of the congressional Atomic Energy committee disclosed yesterday that an atomic employe at Oak Ridge, Tenn., had taken uranium chips to his home and that another employe had hidden a uranium block in his locker.

He made public a transcript of testimony, part of which was deleted for security reasons, given by Oak Ridge and atomic commission officials at a secret hearing three days ago.

At the same time, McMahon announced that the FBI has been consulted about an "inventory discrepancy" of Oak Ridge uranium. He said the FBI "believes its investigation must be delayed until after further inventory analyses have been made."

County Will Need More Money

NOW it is the Richland county budget for next year that shows a substantial increase over this year's costs of operating county government and maintaining required facilities.

According to County Auditor Norman L. Wolfe the county budget request for $1,401,556 is an increase of $133,417 over this year, and it is the steadily mounting costs of the various units of local government that may well be taken into account by taxpayers.

Last week it was the Mansfield city budget for 1950 that showed an increase of more than $200,000 over the current year's appropriations, and the problem of securing sufficient funds from taxation to keep pace with much greater expenditures is one that dare not be disregarded.

Items contained in the county budget, it will be noted, cover no more than an apparent minimum of requirements in various departments and make no provision for various obvious needs.

It is mentioned by Mr. Wolfe that calls upon county funds for relief and welfare purposes have "increased alarmingly" and that if the increase continues the present tax structure will be unable to carry the load.

The time will come—if it is not already here—when it will be advisable to make a check-up of possible waste involved in maintenance of three units of local government—municipal, township and county—with a view to effecting economies by eliminating duplications and improving efficiency.

Meanwhile, however, the immediate problem lies in devising ways in which tax revenues will meet operating costs of county, township, city and schools.

Learning By Actual Experience

ONE OF THE BEST antidotes for the vapid theorizings and airy formulas that can creep into formal schooling is the type of training given young Mansfielders in the distributive education classes. Working under actual business conditions in stores and offices they learn precisely how much theory is worth. They see its very real value in saving time, devising methods of operation, and in meeting new situations.

But they also learn that it has limitations. They see how true is the saying that "there is no substitute for experience."

And above all they become familiar with the life-long problem of most people—earning a dollar and spending it wisely so that there is a little left for times of emergency or idleness.

It seems somewhat remarkable that these students, 24 of them, were able to net average earnings of $739.51 while carrying on their regular class work. And their total income of $16,270 for the year is impressive.

A word of praise is due the Mansfield business firms which co-operate with the school by employing pupils in the courses. They are adding their share to a worthwhile educational project.

Rough Stuff In High Places

THINNESS OF THE VENEER that differentiates civilization from savagery is sometimes revealed in unexpected places, as, for instance, a couple of days ago when two congressmen—one aged 83 and the other approaching 70—became so wrought up that they exchanged blows, thus revealing elemental traits of remote ancestry.

Then, a week or so ago, there was the incident of two Kansas City ministers of the gospel indulging in fisticuffs in a dispute over which should perform a marriage ceremony.

Small wonder, with such examples, that the ideals of brotherhood and world peace are so difficult to turn into realities.

Byrnes Sounds Timely Warning

JAMES F. BYRNES, former secretary of state, performed a worthwhile public service the other day when he declared that the United States is in danger of becoming a welfare state, because he started people to talking about it. Since he mentioned no specific proposal, he stirred talk about a lot of them.

Social legislation and liberalism are generally tied up with "the public good," but the trend needs be carefully examined.

If, as Washington reports American war planes can fly faster than a thousand miles an hour, naturally, of course planes in other countries have to step up their speed, and so on forever while present logic continues

DeWitt Mackenzie's Column

Kaiser's Granddaughter Weds Texan

THIS amazing world of ours is changing so rapidly in its way of life that it's difficult for some of us old-timers to keep up with trends

It's no problem for the youngsters since they never have known anything else, but their horse-and-buggy elders don't so easily readjust themselves to the ideological, social and political upheaval of the atomic age.

That's rather a pity, for we are in the midst of a global metamorphosis which exceeds anything since Adam. It's a transformation in which folks who fall out of line are likely to get stepped on.

You will, I trust, overlook this momentary outburst by your columnist What inspired it was the marriage extraordinary of the German Princess Cecilia of Hohenzollern to Clyde Harris a good-looking former American Army officer from Amarillo, Texas.

The princess is, of course the granddaughter of the late Kaiser Wilhelm (the all highest) and is a direct descendant of England's immortal Queen Victoria. The wedding took place amidst the splendor of one of the Hohenzollern castles, with many notabilities, including royalty, present.

Imagine the kaiser's granddaughter marrying a commoner! When I was a young fellow in the hey-day of the all highest ("Did they have ice cream when you were a little boy, Daddy?") —when I was a young fellow such a marriage would have been unthinkable, at least to the emperor and his court.

Royalty was royalty and the kaiser ruled by divine right (and no fooling). It was the kaiser's exalted view of himself which inspired the poem "Me Und Gott" by an American naval officer, a composition which infuriated his majesty It was that same ambitious spirit which had much to do with hastening the present politico-social global upheaval, for it was he who gave the signal which precipitated World War I

* * *

THE BLONDE Princess Cecelia is a charming woman of 31 who has married for love—with the smiling approval of her royal relatives. The best man for the wedding was her brother, Prince Louis Ferdinand, who is married to the Grand Duchess Kira of Russia a charming couple as your correspondent knows from personal acquaintance

Louis, by the way, donned overalls and worked as a mechanic in the Ford automobile factories at Detroit some years ago. He wanted the experience, and liked it.

Of his new brother-in-law he says "We love Clyde He is such a sincere, likeable and genuine chap I can tell you, we are happy about this match"

And will the newlyweds live in a castle in Germany? Not on your life. Harris is going to take his bride back to Amarillo where he is an interior decorator There they will build themselves a home, even as you and I.

Yes, our world certainly is changing. Are we in step?

The Nation Today

Like An Antique Shop

By JAMES MARLOW

(Editor's Note: This is the third of four stories on President Truman's plans for reorganizing the government.)

* * *

WASHINGTON—When you see some of the plans to reorganize the government, it's like looking through the window of an antique shop where someone has thrown the furniture around.

The plans, which are trying to straighten out the mess, show what a hodge-podge the government has become over a great many years. It's a machine that's been patched and pierced together.

That's why Congress set up a 12-man commission, headed by former President Hoover, to study the government and suggest ways of improving it. The commission made 287 recommendations.

And that's why, following those recommendations — although not in every detail — President Truman this week asked Congress' okay on putting through seven plans. He'll offer more later. Here's an example of one of his plans:

Transfer the bureau of employment security from the federal security administration, which deals with health and welfare, to the labor department. Why?

Because the bureau handles the government's part in the pay the states give unemployed workers. Since that involves labor, he thinks the bureau ought to be in the labor department, whose whole job is with workers.

* * *

Divided Responsibility.

THAT'S an example of a special agency, created at some time or other, to handle a special job At the time it seemed all right to put it one place Now it's clear it really belongs somewhere else.

Here's another Mr. Truman wants the public roads administration — which, after all, deals with transportation — placed in the commerce department which deals with commerce and transportation. At this moment the PRA is in the federal works agency.

Now take the three-man civil service commission which handles all government workers who are in the U. S civil service system The commission itself has 4,000 employes.

At this moment, because neither Congress nor anyone else ever made it clear, all three commissioners share responsibility for the 4,000 employes of the commission

This spreads confusion and robs the commission of some of the time that ought to be spent on the whole, wide civil service system So, Mr. Truman suggests:

The chairman alone should be responsible for the commission's employes This will give the other two commissioners more time for their other work.

The same thing has happened in the five-man maritime commission, which has 6,500 employes, but whose main job is worrying about the nation's shipping.

Mr Truman wants the chairman of the commission alone to have responsibility for the commission's internal doings, such as employes. That will leave the other four comissioners free to concentrate on shipping.

Take the post office department. Mr. Truman wants the postmaster general to have full authority over what goes on inside his department. He doesn't have it now. For example:

Inside the department are the bureau of accounts and the office of purchasing agent. Although they're under the postmaster, they were given special powers by Congress. The postmaster can't touch them.

So Mr Truman asks Congress for approval to wipe out the bureau and the office of purchasing agent and let the postmaster do what he thinks best about the jobs they've been doing.

The various plans of Mr. Truman, outlined only very sketchily here, may not seem world-shaking. They're not. But they give a picture of how complex and twisted-around a lot of the government machinery is.

"Mom gave us a dollar if we'd come over to play with Earl before he could get over to our house!"

Farmer's Diary

On a Hot June Day

By CALVIN A. BYERS

JUNE days are warm and humid Working out in the dusty fields, our boys' dark-tanned backs and faces become grimy with perspiration and streaked with smears of dust Then we are glad for the sparkling spring water that flows never-endingly out of the sandstone rock beside the house, cool enough for a refreshing draught, even without the addition of ice cubes from the refrigerator.

Fruit or cookies make a fine thing to have around, at mid-morning or mid-afternoon, when the young farmers come up to drink Just before noon, and again after the evening chores are done, all the boys hustle down through the wheat field for a quick dip in Honey Creek. These hot days the spring-fed stream seems delightfully clear and warm enough for constant enjoyment

Last evening at nearly dusk, I was up on the road bank overlooking the farm, when I saw the four boys, like stairsteps, 18, 14, 12 and 10—their bare heads bobbing along the line of wheat. Their speech was an inaudible murmur, and I watched them go under the wire gate and down through the mint-lined path, listening unconsciously for the first splash and the first boyish shout as they hit the water

There is no lifeguard upon the bank—unless it be the long-legged heron that enjoys to fish late into twilight After an hour of dipping and splashing the day's labors are passed off and forgotten Four clean, sleek-headed youths return slowly to home and bed.

But the sweet soil odors, the minty fragrance, the iridescence of fireflies and the gentle satisfaction of a day well ended will remain, for it will be a part of men who are to be.

Often, watching them go, my heart hurries along. I like to feel and savor the real substance, the lasting imperishable substance that is youth's and youth's alone. Boys at play—they are our greatest asset. A boy's will may be the wind's will, but the boy's thoughts are long, long thoughts."

"But when youth, the dream, departs.
It takes something from our hearts.
And it never comes again.
We are stronger. and are better.
Under manhood's sterner reign;
Still we feel that something sweet
Followed youth with flying feet.
And will never come again."

—Stoddard.

Wolcott Once Supported Housing Bill

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — G.O.P. Representative Jesse Wolcott of Michigan, who leads the House fight against the public housing bill, would like to forget all about it, but he once strongly espoused what he now opposes

Back in August, 1937, congressman Wolcott was an outspoken champion of the Wagner-Steagall Housing Act, which also provided for slum clearance and low-cost public housing — the same program which the Michigan Republican now calls "socialistic."

During the 1937 debate Wolcott declared: "I believe that the need for decent, respectable and sanitary housing for the underprivileged has been proved beyond the peradventure of a doubt."

In fact, Wolcott was so concerned about the need for adequate public housing and slum clearance in 1937 that he urged colleagues who were opposed to the bill to go home and "read the Bible" before casting their votes.

* * *

Little Iron Curtain.

DEBATED backstage during the closing days of the Paris conference was a point which may revolutionize U. S. policy toward iron curtain countries. It was: should the U S A create a "Little Marshall Plan" for the satellite countries?

Two schools of thought exist among American diplomats Both agree that Europe badly needs East-West trade and that the German Ruhr must have markets in Bulgaria, Hungary, Roumania and other satellite countries.

However, one diplomatic school opposes economic aid to any iron curtain country Such aid, it is argued, is only an indirect way of helping Russia.

The other school argues that aid to Czechoslovakia, Poland Hungary, etc., would win over the people of these countries — already resentful of Soviet rule. This group is prepared to take the calculated risk of helping Russia in order to persuade the satellites to break away from Russia.

However, it was economic unrest inside Yugoslavia that helped induce Tito to pull up his iron curtain. Therefore the No. 1 school argues that our best policy is to let the satellites stew in their own economic juice until they really realize how tough life behind the iron curtain is.

Note —Despite Foreign Minister Vishinsky's smiles at Paris, Russia still has 172 fully trained divisions of the Red army, plus 180 reserve divisions which can be mobilized in sixty days.

* * *

Perle's Parties.

MRS. PERLE MESTA, ex-Republican oil heiress from Oklahome whose loyalty to Harry Truman has made her U. S minister to Luxembourg, threw a party for Defense Secretary Louie Johnson the other day. But the guest list looked as if Mrs. Mesta was specializing on Pan American Airways.

It included Sam Pryor, G O.P national committeeman for Connecticut and vice president of Pan American; Ben Sonnenberg, astute public relations counsel for Pan Am, and Senator Brewster of Maine, considered Pan Am's best senatorial friend. Louie Johnson, himself, of course, used to be counsel for Pan American, which has received more favors from Uncle Sam than any other airline in history.

Note — Mrs. Mesta is now reading books on the steel industry. For Luxembourg, her new post, is the center of the European steel cartel.

* * *

He Who Laughs Last.

OREGON'S wrathy Republican Wayne Morse has served notice that he will block every bill chairman Millard Tydings of Maryland tries to steamroller through the Senate armed services committee.

Morse issued his warning privately after rowing with Tydings publicly over whether the Navy should report to Congress its disposal of surplus property. This is now required by law, but Tydings wants to repeal the law and let the Navy dispose of property without any public report. Morse objected on the ground that Congress should not give up its checks on the military. But in committee Tydings overruled him.

However, the Oregon senator is going to have the last laugh. For he can block most of Tydings' bills on the Senate floor, and he has served notice that he will do so — whenever the chairman tries to jam legislation down the throats of committee members without a fair vote.

There's So Much Good

By INEZ ROBB

NEW YORK — Today's column is written for those readers who claim that newspapers print only tales of the wicked and unjust and never have space to record the good deeds that enlighten this naughty world.

This is the case history of a good deed—no, good deeds—that goes back to Italy and the war years. My spouse spent two years putting up with Italy and the United States Army during the late war.

To make a long story shorter, he got along just dandy with Italy and the Italians. He liked them as warmly as ever did the illstarred hero of "A Bell For Adano."

And certainly some of the Italians returned that affection, if a constant stream of correspondence, presents and visitors from Italy can be taken as testimony.

Among the visitors were a man and wife who paused almost two months in New York in the autumn of 1947 on their way to South America. Discouraged by conditions in Italy, especially communism, they pulled up stakes to start a new life in a strange, far-off land.

I had admiration for Charlot and Andres. They had both been reared in upper-middle class comfort, if not luxury. And now, on the verge of middle age, they were setting out to pioneer in a setting more harsh and difficult than anything either had ever known.

And I hear from them regularly. They have, ironically enough, survived one savage communist uprising in the land to which they went to escape the Red menace in Europe.

Their letters are sometime wistful, sometimes nostalgic and almost always lonely. But the letters are also brave and there are no complaints.

* * *

Appreciative Visitors.

ABOUT two months ago we had a letter from them, saying that another Italian couple, who had preceded them to South America, was coming to new York on business. Would we see them and steer 'em around?

So that is how Francine and Enrico came to our door. The first night they came to dinner at our apartment, I was full of the miracles being performed at the Institute of Rehabilitation and Physical Medicine.

I had spent most of the day with Dr. Howard A. Rusk, chairman of the institute and former wartime chief of the army air forces rehabilitation program, going through the institute and talking to the crippled men, women and children being treated there so successfully.

My boiling point is phenomenally low. And when I am enthusiastic, I boil over. Anyway, I must have turned in an impressive performance that night.

Because Enrico and Francine called me today and asked me to meet them at their hotel. They are going back to South America within a few days.

They said they had had a wonderful time in the United States, so much so that they dream of returning here to live sometime Everyone had been so kind, so helpful, they added.

Everyone made it so easy to transact business, Enrico declared. Furthermore, he said he thought the service in American hotels, restaurants and stores superb!

That alone was enought to unhinge me for the day, as so many visitors to our shores find the service everywhere so—gauche—shall we say, to be polite?

But the real reason they wished to see me, said Francine, was to give me a "little" gift for the institute for the crippled people I had told them about weeks ago.

"It must be a wonderful place, Enrico said. "It is a wonderful country to have such institutes."

The "little" gift for the institute, and I am stunned by its munificence, is a five-carat emerald!

"Just give it to the Dr. Rusk and let him dispose of it for funds for the institute," Enrico instructed.

"It is very little to do when we have had so happy a time in America," he added briskly.

Well, this seems to me a rather luminously good deed in a naughty world, a good deed that started in Italy five years ago, traveled through South America, and now is to benefit an American institute.

Who says people are no good?

Working Out Hoover Program.

A start has been made on reorganization of the government in accordance with recommendations of the Hoover commission. Seven plans affecting various departments have been sent over to Congress by the President. If neither branch of that body disapproves then the changes will become effective at the end of sixty days.

It is to be hoped that Congress will do nothing to interfere with the carrying out of this program. It is the product of long study by some of the best administrative minds in the country.

It may not be perfect and some departure from the Hoover commission recommendations can be expected. But that would be quite different from an attitude of obstruction that might in the end undermine the whole enterprise.—Kansas City Star.

How It Started

—By JEAN NEWTON

"Court Plaster."

The reader who inquires for the meaning and origin of "court plaster" refers to it as "the old name of adhesive tape." And that is perhaps as good a definition as one can produce — except that the use to which court plaster was put originally was quite different from the functions of adhesive tape today. Thereby hangs the tale of its origin.

The "court plaster" once served for beauty marks — the black patches which ladies at court wore on their faces — and gentlemen also, if the truth must be told.

"Court plaster" was made of silk, in black or flesh-color as well as white, with an adhesive substance — usually a mixture of isinglass and Glycerin — covering one side, which made it practicable for covering superficial wounds.

Appropriations Bill Wins OK

Most Will Go To Pay Salaries

President Signs Deficiency Measure

WASHINGTON — (UP) — The government got more money yesterday to wind up its work this year. But Congress made no progress in appropriating money for the next 12 months of operations.

President Truman signed a $862,563,510 deficiency appropriations measure. Most of it will go to pay salaries of government employes who were given pay raises by the last Congress. Some of it is for departments that ran out of money for payrolls for the fiscal year that ends June 30.

The appropriation also included $5,400,000 with which to rebuild or repair the White House.

But as the fiscal year nears its end next Thursday, Congress is in its usual appropriation jam. Only one of the 10 regular spending bills to provide money for the 1950 fiscal year beginning July 1 has been passed by both Houses and signed by the President.

President Truman also signed a bill allowing each House member $3,500 a year for additional clerical help and communications. But he reproved the members for not raising the pay of key federal executives.

The House appropriations committee recommended immediate liquidation of the War Assets administration. The recommendation was contained in its approval of another $127,032,243 deficiency spending bill.

This last remaining war agency was scheduled for liquidation Feb. 28. Then its life was prolonged to June 30. Later President Truman's budget bureau asked Congress for $26,500,000 to extend its life through June 30, 1950.

But the committee said it saw no reason for another extension. It recommended giving the Treasury department $2,500,000 for accrued annual leave of WAA employes and $4,000,000 to the Reconstruction Finance corporation for handling surplus property transferred to it from WAA.

The measure is the third deficiency spending bill of the current session.

Mass Accidents Involve 11 Cars

FORT WORTH, Tex. — (UP). Two identical traffic accidents within a short distance and time of each other involved 11 cars and caused numerous smashed grills, dented fenders and ruffled tempers.

Six cars were stopped nearly bumper - to - bumper while waiting on another motorist to make a left turn at an intersection. A seventh motorist skidded into the rear car, resulting in every car in bumping into the one ahead.

A similar accident at nearly the same time three blocks away involved four cars.

Law Forbids Sign Posting

It is unlawful for any person to place signs or advertisements of any kind on poles or trees in Mansfield, Police Chief Jesse J. Schwab said today.

The chief said many of these signs are appearing in Mansfield and that the police, when they see them tear the signs down.

Posting the signs is in violation of a Mansfield city ordinance, and the Ohio General Code, the chief said.

The fine for the violation is not more than $5 and costs nor more than $50 and costs, Chief Schwab said.

Section 327 of the Ohio General Code states: "It shall be unlawful for any person to stick, paste, nail or in any manner post any bill, sign, poster or advertisement of any description, upon any pole of any kind, erected or standing on any street alley or public ground."

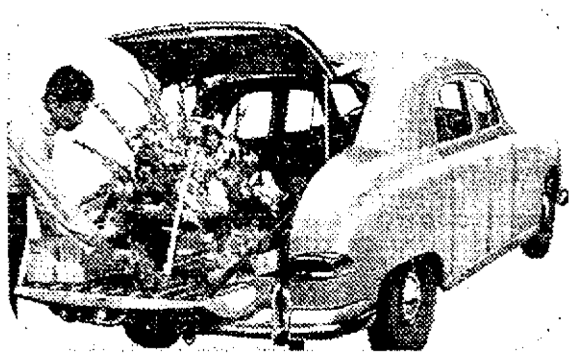
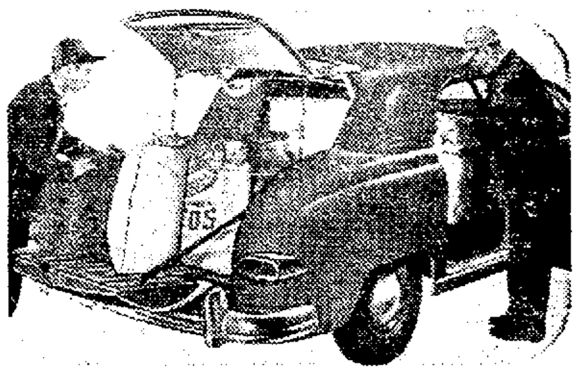
Kaiser's exclusive new idea solves your family's "2-car problem"!

Says Mr. Kaiser: "Until now, few could afford to buy and maintain the two kinds of cars most busy families need. Solving this problem has made the Kaiser Traveler, in 6 short weeks, one of America's fastest-selling cars."

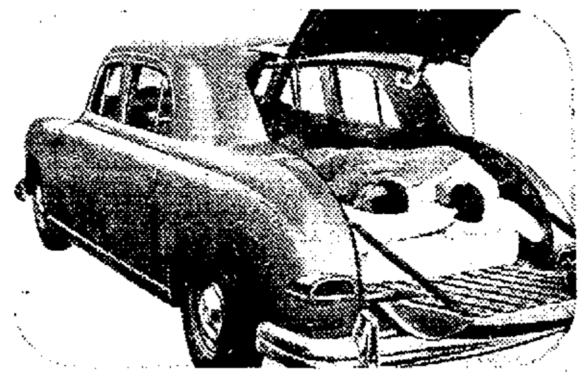


Salesmen with bulky samples, find the 130 cubic feet capacity ample for all needs. Powerful, quiet Thunderhead Engine with 7.3-to-1 compression ratio saves gas.



Farmers like the 10-second speed with which the Traveler changes "into shirtsleeves". No tools, no bolts. Simply fold down rear seat, flip open hatch and lower tail-gate.

Small businessmen admire the ruggedness of the 10 foot long, steel-shod cargo hold. As a big, beautiful, 6-passenger sedan, the Kaiser Traveler commands real prestige.



Vacationers call the Kaiser Traveler ideal. Nights, it becomes a double bed, snug and dry. Big 123½" wheelbase ends 'short car fatigue' for driver and passengers.

MISS KATHERINE NETHERO TO BE WED ON JULY 16

Bride-elect's Twin and Sister-in-Law Entertain With Announcement Shower Thursday.

THE DATE OF THE APPROACHING marriage of Miss Katherine Nethero and Raymond Mastandrea was revealed to fourteen friends last evening at an announcement shower given by the honoree's twin, Mrs. Frank Mastandrea, and Mr. Mastandrea's sister, Mrs. D. R. Sammataro of Connecticut, at Liberty park pavilion.

Out-of-town guest present was Mrs. Harry Nethero of Ashland.

The diversion of the evening was making a bride's book which was presented to Miss Nethero.

Miss Nethero was given her gifts from a table centered with an arrangement of summer garden flowers. Over the table hung a large white wedding bell. The hostesses' gift was an electrical appliance.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses at tables decorated in pink, white and blue appointments.

At the close of the evening the honoree announced July 16 as her wedding date. The nuptials will be exchanged at 9:30 a. m. in St. Peter's Catholic church. The wedding will be open and formal.

Miss Nethero is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde A. Nethero, 332 West Fifth street, and Mr. Mastandrea is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mastandrea, 368 Newman street.

Mrs. Sammataro will serve as matron of honor. Bridesmaids will be the bride-elect's twin, Mrs. Mastandrea, and Miss Beverly Gutchall, a close friend.

Attendants for the bridegroom will be George Berick, best man, Basil Monastra and Kenneth Swetlick, all friends of the couple.

WEINER ROAST

The Junior American legion auxiliary will meet Saturday at the Legion Home at 2:30 p. m. Members are requested to bring weiners and buns for the weiner roast.

Bridal Shower Fetes Miss York

A bridal shower honoring Miss Betty Jean York, was held Wednesday at Liberty Park pavilion. The hostesses were Miss Mary Ellen York, the bride-elect's sister, and Miss Lena DeMilio, a close friend. Both hostesses will be attendants at Miss York's wedding.

There were twenty gueste present. Pink and blue appointments and wedding bell designs, decorated the pavilion. The bride-elect was let to her gifts, hidden about the room, by a line stretched across the room with notes attached, giving her hints.

Miss York will marry Arthur Hassig Saturday evening at 7:30 p. m. at the Glad Tidings Tabernacle. The Rev. J. A. Wilkenson will officiate for the candlelight service.

BRIDGE IN PLAY

Mrs. Floyd Adams, South Mulberry street, entertained members of the Star club last evening. Bridge was in play at two tables with prizes being awarded to Mrs. Howard Barnes and Mrs. Harry Colbow. Luncheon was served at a late hour at an attractively decorated table. The next session will be held in August. At this time the members will have a picnic with the time and place being announced at a later date.

Women Guests of Lumbermens Feted With Many Social Events

Women guests, who have been in attendance for the fifth annual Advisory Council meeting of the Lumbermens Mutual Insurance company, have been entertained with a variety of social activities during their two-day stay.

Fifty agents from 30 states arrived in Mansfield Wednesday evening, many bringing their wives. On Wednesday evening early the group was feted with an informal party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Nail, 730 Woodhill road. This included guests, officers of the company and department heads. Eighty were in attendance at the home of the president of the company.

Later the visiting ladies were entertained with a dinner at the Sky Club.

On Thursday noon a buffet luncheon was served on the spacious lawn of the Lumbermens company with 190 in attendance. This informal party included all employes of the company and guests. Miss Estella Arras was in charge of arrangements.

In the afternoon the ladies were taken to Malabar to visit author - farmer Louis Bromfield's home. Last evening a banquet was served in the ballroom of the Mansfield - Leland hotel for 175 guests and employes.

A brunch at 9:30 this morning was served to the lady guests at the Westinghouse Electric Corporation. Mrs. Jula Kiene of the Home Economics department presided as hostess and gave a demonstration and lecture on the use of appliances and on "nutrition".

At 1 p. m. today the concluding social event for the group was held at Westbrook Country Club with a luncheon served to approximately 80.

The visiting agents were entertained this morning at the Lumbermens company with an outdoor breakfast party.

Russell Davis served as general chairman for the sessions and Mrs. Helen Koozer planned the entertainment. Mr. Davis is vice president in charge of sales for the company, and presided at all the meetings.

Wives of the officers and employes of the Mansfield office assisted in feting the visiting guests.

Mrs. E. E. Arnold of St. Petersburg, Fla., is the only woman agent for the company.

B'NAI JACOB SISTERHOOD HONORED WITH LUNCHEON

THE HOME OF MRS. NATHAN LIFSON, 720 Woodhill road, was the scene of the beautifully appointed luncheon party Thursday for members of the Sisterhood of B'nai Jacob temple. The occasion was installation of officers and for the presentation of medals to women who have raised money for the temple. A total of $3,500 was raised by the group.

Seventy-five women were graciously entertained by the hostess, Mrs. Lifson, who was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Mathilda Waisbren.

Guests were served from a bountiful table centered with a flat arrangement of larkspur, delphinium and greenery. Bouquets of garden flowers decorated the home. For the luncheon the group was seated at small tables in the garden.

"Queen" for the day was Mrs. Benjamin Booksbaum, who raised nearly $600, by means of rummage sales, sewing, baking and donations. She was presented with a gold pin, a gift from Mrs. Waisbren. Others who received recognition for contributing to the temple, by raising money individually, were Mrs. A. W. Bloom, Mrs. Sam Mittman, Mrs. David Ellison, Mrs. Carl Graver, Mrs. M. J. Berer, Mrs. Leo Budin, Mrs. Jules Glattke, Mrs. Morris Post, Mrs. Sam Fox, Mrs. Philip Oxman, Mrs. Jules Frankel, Mrs. Sam Harris, Mrs. Elmer Klein, Mrs. Herb Cobey, Mrs. Leonard Hurwitz, Mrs. Booksbaum, Mrs. Ben Schafer and Mrs. Lifson. They received gold medals, gifts from Mrs. Ben Schafer.

When new officers were installed the presiding officer was Mrs. William Wasserstrom of Columbus, of the National Women's League of the United Synagogue.

Mrs. M. J. Berer will serve as the new president; Mrs. Leo Budin, first vice president; Mrs. Lifson, second vice president; Mrs. Max Meisel, treasurer; Mrs. Irving Bookatz, recording secretary; Mrs. Booksbaum, financial secretary; Mrs. Max Finberg, auditor; and Mrs. Elmer Klein, corresponding secretary.

New board members include Mrs. Sam Frankel, Mrs. Jerry Goldman and Mrs. A. Selfman.

Mrs. Leonard Hurwitz, retiring president, and Mrs. Berer, the newly elected president, both gave short talks. Mrs. Lifson was surprised by a gift of a gold pin with a diamond setting, from the organization, which was given to her by Mrs. Hurwitz. This recognition was for her outstanding service to the Sisterhood. Prayer was offered by Mrs. Moshe Goldblum.

Bride-Elect Entertained With Shower

Bride-elect Miss Angeline Miller was honored with a miscellaneous shower last evening at the home of Mrs. John Besch, 111 Gibson avenue. There were ten guests present.

Bridge was the diversion of the evening. Score gifts were presented to Mrs. Helen Kennedy, Mrs. Ruth Borden, Miss Rita Marshall and Miss Mary Agnes Kleshynski. They presented the prizes to the honoree.

The hostess presented the bride-elect with a gift of linen. A late luncheon was served on a table with silver and crystal appointments, centered with a bowl of roses.

Miss Miller will exchange vows with Robert Dinger, tomorrow in the rectory of St. Peter's Catholic church at 9:30 a. m. Rev. William Conees will officiate.

DeMolay Mothers Meet At YMCA

The regular monthly meeting of the DeMolay Mothers, Baku chapter, was held Wednesday evening at the YMCA clubrooms. Mrs. Paul Whipp, president, conducted the session and named Mrs. Howard Domer as chairman for the party for DeMolay boys in the near future.

Committee reports were made and Mrs. John Schneider reported three new members for the first six months of this year. It was decided not to meet in July. The next regular meeting will be held Aug. 24 in the YMCA clubrooms.

Mrs. Glenn Miller won the club prize for the evening. A buffet lunch was served at a late hour with Mrs. Schneider, Mrs. Whipp and Mrs. Roscoe Traxler on the committee.

OFFICERS NOMINATED

Nomination of officers of the Disabled American Veterans auxiliary was held at their business session conducted recently in the clubrooms. Installation will be held in July with Leona Brown, a state officer, conducting the affair. It was voted to have socials during July and August. The July 13 social will bein charge of Mrs. LeRoy Snyder and Mrs. A. J. Thompson at 483 Shepard road.

DR. HAROLD L. PARROTT WEDS MILWAUKEE GIRL

Miss Marcia June Pelmarsh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pelmarsh, of Milwaukee, Wisc., became the bride of Dr. Harold L. Parrott, 148 North Mulberry street, Sunday.

Dr. Parrott is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Parrott, of Marysville, Ohio. The couple was married at the bridegroom's parents' home. The Rev. Harry D. Parrott, of Cleveland officiated. White lilies and pink and red roses, banked the fireplace. The scene was lit with candelabra.

The bride wore a pale pink silk crepe dress and her mother's pearls. She carried a corsage of white roses. Her only attendant, was the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Bernice Gene Schultz, of Marysville. She was attired in a pale blue taffeta dress and a corsage of pale pink roses, which she wore at her waist.

The bridegroom's brother, Russell L. Parrott, of Marysville, served as best man. The couple is now at home at 158 West Second street.

The bride attended Milwaukee schools and Marquette university in Milwaukee. She has been employed as a mechanotherapist. Dr. Parrott is a graduate of Marysville high school. He attended Metropolitan college in Cleveland and received his doctor's degree from National College in Chicago, Ill.

Kum-a-Long Class Entertained

Thomas Nickolson conducted the business session of the Kum-A-Long class of the First Lutheran church recently at their meeting held at the home of William Daugherty, R. D. 5. His associate host was Richard Griesbach. Devotionals were led by Mr. Griesbach.

Sixteen were in attendance. One new member Miss Shirley Brigham, was welcomed into the group.

During the business session the group discussed their trip to the lake which was held the past week-end. Plans were made for a bake sale with Miss Helen Logan in charge of arrangements. Gloria Stahl, 765 Grace street.

The next meeting will be held July 20 at the home of Miss She will be assisted by Miss Mary Beebe.

Mr. Daugherty and Mr. Nickolson will be in charge of the next meeting. Outdoor games were the diversion of the evening.

BREAK YOUR DISHES

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Newsfeature Writer

NEW YORK—If Lovey wants to throw the crockery at Dovey, that's all right with Carole Stupell, a hot-headed lady who believes everybody should break more dishes.

It's a sort of phobia with her. She goes so far as to say that the monotony of looking at the same set of dishes year in and year out creates a strain on the marital tie.

If you can't break 'em, just throw 'em out, she advises cheerily if not thriftily, and get a new set every year.

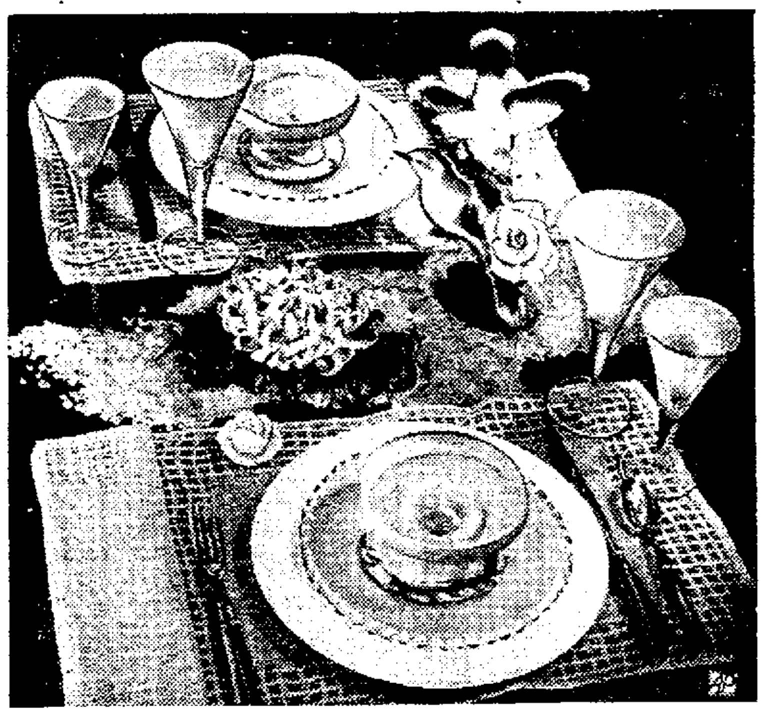
She is even trying to work out a system whereby a housewife may trade her old dishes in on a new set whenever she grows bored with them, just as you trade in the family car on a new model.

One way out of the dilemma, suggests Miss Stupell, is for a bride to have a series of "honeymoon sets" of tableware—just two of everything, but in enough variety to use different dishes for breakfast, lunch and dinner, and change the table decor with the mood of the moment.

Carole is the gal who evolved circular place mats, colored glassware to match the dishes or linen, and the idea of breaking away from tradition in table settings.

Nothing makes her madder than a chaste white damask tablecloth set with ancestral china.

She cautions brides not to be careless about their table settings—it's important, she says, to maintain the romantic atmosphere at mealtimes even after the honeymoon is over.



LOVE SET — This is Carole Stupell's prescription for a honeymoon table setting—ceramic love birds guard delicate chrysanthemums poised on luminous pink pebbles for a centerpiece. White china, pink glass and pink linen mats complete the hearts-and-flowers picture.

Rio de Janeiro is named for a river that does not exist Spanish discoverers in 1502 mistook the wide bay for the mouth of a river, which they called River of January because they came upon it on Jan. 1.

The Canary Island, 700 miles southwest of Spain in the Atlantic, are considered unique in their plant life. Botanists list more than 300 wild plants which grow in the Canaries and nowhere else.

Shower Fetes Miss Mayer

The bride-elect of John R. Solomon, Miss Eva Mayer, was complimented Thursday evening at a miscellaneous shower given by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Joe Mayer, 561 Crescent road.

A bride's book was made by the fourteen guests present. Mrs. Robert K. Bissler of Kent, was also in attendance.

Refreshments were served at a late hour at small tables centered with yellow taper in crystal holders. These candles were surrounded by miniature Japanese umbrellas. Arrangements of summer garden flowers were placed throughout the home.

The couple will be wed July 16 in St. Peter's Catholic church at 10:30 a. m.

HOROSCOPE

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE
or Saturday, June 25

A PECULIAR trend of events or strange contacts, makes this a "day to be remembered" as intriguing, wierd and probably exalting in its mental and emotional reactions. While the mind may be resourceful and fertile, it is possible that if wild or erratic feelings be held in leash some stroke of genius, or an intuitive insight may beget something strangely profitable.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, being endowed with a versatile mind, with insight, keen vision and intuitive leads even on practical matters, may enjoy a rather unique experience in far fields of operation, or possibly in strange leads, dreams or other unrealistic urge. Such exceptional talents or graces, while fanciful and glamourous or elusive, could be turned to excellent advantage by proper attention to realities, the subjective serving the objective by due control.

A child born on this day is endowed with rare qualities of mentality, emotions and feelings. While such gifts may be turned into profitable channels, they call for proper understanding and insight lest imagination run away with common sense.

Ohio Legislators Face Hectic Schedule for Monday Session

Governor Irked By FEPC Loss

Reconsideration Hinted Coming

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Absenteeism, school finances FEPC legislation and an "additions and betterments" bill totaling just under 100 million dollars were the problems Ohio's lawmakers carried home with them today as they went into week-end recess

Governor Lausche slashed at the Senate for killing a compromise Fair Employment Practices bill and at the House Education committee for recommending for passage a Senate-approved bill increasing state aid to schools by 27-1/2 million dollars.

The governor declared the compromise FEPC bill killed Wednesday was "a better bill than the original" and "should be passed" It is certain that great pressure will be brought over the week-end on the 11 Republicans — and even more so on the six Democrats — who voted against the bill The vote could be reconsidered Monday night.

On the school bill, Lausche unmistably hinted that he would follow the veto course he set in his first term four years ago if the measure should pass the House

The governor contended that there was no money available to meet the increase and that he would oppose any new taxes designed to raise the money at the "expense of an already overburdened citizenry"

Meanwhile, absenteeism again became a pressing problem for House leaders Despite the pending action of the finance committee, which recommended for passage the "A & B" bill, only 96 of the 134 members were in their seats for the Thursday session Only 82 votes were cast on one non-controversial roll-call

The Senate's batting average was but little better The 27 of the 33 senators present at the start of the session dwindled to 22 on the last vote

The "A & B" bill appropriates $63 603,574 in new money for permanent capital improvements, and re-appropriates $35,267,953 in unexpended monies originally allocated in the "A & B" bill of two years ago

The vote of the measure was 16 to 2 It will be brought to the floor of the House as soon as the bill can be re-printed—possibly next week

Artist Tried 10,000-Year-Old Meat For Novel Taste Thrill

TIRED OF EATING the same old things? Want a new flavor thrill?

Then why not try some tasty marrow from a woolly mammoth aged for 10,000 years in nature's northern icebox? You'll never forget it.

Charles R. Knight has remembered the sensation for 25 years. He is an artist famous for his pioneering paintings of prehistoric life.

"About a quarter of a century ago the American Museum of Natural History got some bones and flesh from a woolly mammoth trapped in the Alaskan ice perhaps 10,000 years before," he recalled.

"We were curious as to what it would taste like, so we tried some of the marrow. It tasted exactly like rancid grease."

Nobody asked for a second helping. Knight feels he was luckier than some Russian scientists who dined on the flesh of another woolly mammoth caught long ago in the Siberian deep freeze.

"They got awfully sick," he said.

All the world's a graveyard to this 74-year-old artist who perhaps as much as any one man has helped the past come alive. Since 1894 he has specialized in painting prehistoric men and animals, and he was the first to do so scientifically--based on reconstruction fossils.

His large-scale murals hang in a dozen well known natural history museums across the country, and his work was collected by such nature lovers as the late J. P. Morgan, Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania, and historian Charles A. Beard. His fifth book, "Prehistoric Man," soon will be published.

His 55-year study of the earth as it was in the days of the dinosaurs has convinced him modern man doesn't have too much to brag about.

"Ancestral man has existed for perhaps a million years," said Knight, "But he didn't assume his present manlike shape until the Cro-Magnon man of Europe, some 30,000 years ago.

"And the Cro-Magnon was just as good a man as we are, mentally and physically. The Cro-Magnons averaged 5 feet 9 inches tall, but some were 6 feet 3 or 4 inches.

"You could bring a Cro-Magnon man to New York City today and after you had shown him a few wonders, he'd be able to get along all right.

Knight is convinced that mankind's biggest defeat is his failure to develop spiritually.

"With all our advantages we haven't advanced spiritually, as we can and should and must," he said. "I don't think that spiritually we are better than Cor-Magnon."

"Confucius, Christ, Mohammed--these and other Messiahs have told us a thousand times what to do. We know what to do--but we don't do it.

"I don't know what to make of modern man. He throws away his possibilities. He is a deliberate fool--the worst kind of a fool."

But Knight thinks there is little use for man to trust that nature will bail him out of the trouble he is getting himself into.

"He will destroy himself unless he returns to more spiritual ways. He's a goner.

"Nature never helped any animal out of a hole. She won't help man out either, and he has prolems just like any other animal."

State Cites Two Liquor Dealers

Showing Gambling Devices Charged

Two more Mansfield restaurant and tavern owners have been cited to appear before the state liquor control board for displaying gambling devices where liquor is sold.

John and Harold George, operators of the Coney Island Sandwich company, at 98 North Main street, and Samuel Zivkov, doing business as Sam's cafe, 859 Bowman street, today were cited to appear for a hearing next Tuesday.

A spokesman for the liquor control board said each case is judged on the evidence presented at the hearing, but usually in cases such as these liquor license suspensions are imposed on the cafe owners.

Displayed at the Coney Island Sandwich company were two five-cent punch boards, the liquor board spokesman said.

At Sam's cafe was a Jar-O-Do tip board.

The liquor board spokesman said he didn't know what kind of a gambling device that was, but an employe at Sam's cafe said it was the ordinary glass bowl where the customer reaches in and takes out a slip.

Arrests were made by State Liquor Inspectors Michael Corsaro, Wade Webb, and William Harshbarger.

2 Firms Add Shield Plan

Two more Mansfield firms today were reported enrolled in the Blue Shield Surgical plan, a non-profit plan of prepaid surgical benefits.

The latest subscribers to the plan are Barnes Manufacturing company and Sears Roebuck and company, according to Wayne Copeland, superintendent of Mansfield General hospital.

The Blue Shield Plan is administrated in Mansfield and six local counties by the Akron Hospital Service of Akron, and Mansfield General is a member-hospital of the Akron service, Copeland pointed out.

Both companies will provide a payroll deduction system to help employes operate the Blue Shield group plan. For monthly subscriptions of 60 cents per individual, or $1.90 for an entire family, Blue Shield provides cash reimbursements for surgical fees, the hospital administrator explained.

Employes of both companies have been enrolled in Blue Cross Hospitalization Plan, also administrated by the Akron unit, for several years, Copeland said. The Blue Shield contracts become effective July 1.

Girl Scouts Back From Chicago Trip

Eleven Girl Scouts of Troop 2 and two advisers, girl scout leader Mrs E. L. Becker, 130 Vennum avenue, and Mrs. C. D. Heaton, 197 Marlow road, returned last night from a three day trip to Chicago.

They made several tours to various parts of the city. Also included in their excursions were two theater parties and a swimming party. They went by train.

Resigns Post With Police

Stenographer Leaves Saturday

Mrs. Cora Fay, of 215 East First street, recently appointed stenographer with the police department's identification bureau, announced her resignation effective tomorrow, Service - Safety Director Earl T. Garrison said today.

She was appointed on June 13 to fill the position created by city council action.

The stenographer is needed in the identification bureau for work that is being done by Policewoman Ruth Craig.

Council authorized the appointment so the policewoman could be released from clerical duties and devote her time to policework.

Senate OK's Transfer

A triangular-shaped parcel of land on the Ashland road today needed only the signature of the governor for the ownership to revert back to the City of Mansfield.

The parcel is between the National Guard Armory and a root beer stand on the southeast side of the Ashland road. The land is part of the property deeded to the state for use as the site of the Armory.

The Ohio Senate today passed a bill to deed the land back. Previously, the House had passed the bill, which was introduced by Richland county representative C. L. Mitchell. The City of Mansfield, on taking the property back, may keep or sell it.

The property fronts 273 feet along Ashland road from Touby's Run to the Armory. The property line alongside the west side of the Armory is 101 feet long, running from the road to the creek.

The third side of the triangular-shaped property runs along the creek for a distance of 291 feet, back to the road. The parcel contains thirty-hundreths of an acre.

Permit Needed For Fireworks

Written permission of the sheriff or the fire chief of a city or community must be obtained to carry out fireworks celebrations, in accordance with Ohio law, Sheriff E. P. Long said today.

This includes public and private celebrations carried out in connection with fairs, carnivals and other celebrations. The persons in charge are strictly accountable for damages resulting.

Another section of the law prohibits sale or use of fireworks except for toy pistols and paper caps containing not more than 25-hundreths grain of explosive compound.

Former Mansfielder Dies In Columbus

Mrs Elizabeth Brain, 84, native Mansfielder, who has lived in Columbus 40 years, died in a hospital there Wednesday night, relatives here have been informed Mrs. Brain had been ill eight months. Her husband, James, died a year ago.

Surviving are a sister, Miss Emma Forshler, and a brother, George Forshler, both of Columbus. Services and burial will be in Columbus Saturday afternoon.

Scouts Hold Family Picnic In City Park

Over 40 members of Boy Scout Troop 2 and their families attended a covered-dish dinner and wiener roast at South Park Wednesday night.

Following the dinner, the Scouts defeated their fathers in a game of softball, 8-7, Scoutmaster Fred Morey reported.

U. S. 'War' Spending Called Boon To Reds

U. S. military men played into the hands of the Russians by requesting 30 billion dollars for the three armed services, Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, a member of the Hoover commission, told Kiwanians yesterday at their luncheon meeting in the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

Flemming, president of Ohio Wesleyan university, explained the Russians would like to see huge spending to strain the American economy. The army's request sought money to modernize 103 more tanks than the army actually had, the commission found.

A plea to simplify governmental procedure was voiced by the educator who said the commission emphasized three points to eliminate duplication of work within the executive branch.

The first point was to define clearly the responsibility of the various federal executive departmental heads. The second is to give a person to whom responsibility is assigned "sufficient authority to act so that he can do an effective and efficient job."

Third, he said, controls should be established so as to make sure that those who do have the authority to act, "do so within the framework of standards set up by Congress and the President."

The commission prepared 19 reports which have been turned over to Congress. Some bills have been introduced in Congress to put the recommendations into operation, the speaker said. He urged his listeners to support the program because "the time has come to put our house in order."

The educator said that in dozens of instances, lines of authority are confused and that in dozens more there is duplication of services. "It is hopeless to expect to have economy and efficiency unless the situation is cleared up," he continued. He said he believed that something can be done.

Taking as an example the report on national defense, the commission, Flemming said, found management of the national defense establishment "chaotic." "There is no such thing as cost-consciousness on the part of those in charge," he said.

Putting all of the commission's recommendations into effect would result in a saving of three and one-half to four billion dollars annually, Flemming declared.

He said there was some opposition to the recommendations, particularly from some groups, but he has found public opinion in favor of the proposals, he said.

A series of 25 topics were set up, and 300 prominent citizens asked to serve on "task forces" to study the reorganization of various departments. These forces carried out their studies over a year, turning in their reports in September, 1948.

The commission went over the reports, then submitted them to Congress. The commission met two and three times a week, he said. Hoover, Flemming stated, put in more time and energy than any other member of the commission.

Charles K. Spreng, vice president of Kiwanis, presided and introduced guests. Paul M. Eliot, was program chairman and introduced Dr. Flemming. A large group turned out for the meeting.

Resident Dies At 87

George W. Hesselden, 87, lifelong resident of the Mansfield area, died at his home, 219 Hedges street, early this morning after several weeks' illness.

He was born Nov. 21, 1861 near Mansfield and for many years was employed at the Aultman-Taylor company, and later was a city employe.

He was a member of First Christian church and Loyal Order of Moose, 341.

Surviving are his widow, Margaret Anna; a brother, Samuel Hesselden, and three sisters, Mrs. Sylvilla Roadpouch, Mrs. Sarah Chew and Mrs. Ermina Hoffman, all of Mansfield, and several nieces and nephews.

The body was removed to the Wappner Funeral home where services will be conducted Monday at 3:30 p. m., by Rev. B. F. Hagelbarger, pastor of First Christian church. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery.

Dismiss Petition On Ditch Project

County commissioners have dismissed a petition for improvement of 8,300 feet of the Till ditch in Sharon township after landowners failed to agree on assessments.

The petition called for cleanout, straightening and deepening of the ditch from the tile outlet to State Route 39. Landowners talked or re-petitioning, to have the project made a joint Richland-Crawford county project, commissioners said, since the ditch runs into the neighboring county.

Czech Reds Hit Catholics

Hint Purge Under Way

PRAGUE, CZECHOSLOVAKIA—(UP)— Communist authorities have acted against Catholic clergymen accused of trying to foment disorder in several parts of Slovakia, the newspaper Lidove Noviny reported today.

The report indicated that the active struggle between the church and the government had spread throughout Czechoslovakia. It was the first hint that officials might have started action aimed at the prosecution of bishops and priests.

The Czech cultural newspaper said the Slovak governing body met yesterday and heard a report "by the commissioner of interior about the efforts of bishops and some priests to arouse disorder at several places."

The commissioners "have taken certain measures according to the government's declaration of June 21," the newspaper said. It did not say what the measures were.

FLAYS BERAN

On June 21 Premier Antonin Zapotocky, in a broadcast to the nation assailing Archbishop Josef Beran, said that "law and justice must be used against marauders, provocateurs and those who call for disorder and unrest."

Zapotocký warned that the government would not "tolerate church officials terrorizing the freedom of political opinion for patriotic Catholic priests."

The situation in Slovakia was obscure. Reports circulated that authorities confiscated the Wednesday edition of the Bratislava newspaper Lud which published a Vatican statement excommunicating members of the pro-government Catholic action group.

Slovakia has na archbishop. The archbishopric at Nitra has been vacant since the death of its last occupant.

The second edition of the government - sponsored "Catholic News" appeared today. It published in full the June 21 speech of Zapotocky.

Northeast Ohio Methodists Back $500,000 Fund Drive

The Northeast Ohio conference of Methodist churches, meeting at Lakeside this week, yesterday voted approval of a $500,000 building fund campaign throughout Ohio for the Methodist student movement at five state universities. The Ohio conference voted approval of the state-wide campaign two weeks ago.

The Methodist church sponsors Wesley Foundation programs and student centers at five state universities in Ohio. It will share in the $500,000 fund.

Ohio State will receive $275,000; Miami, $100,000; Ohio and Kent, $50,000 each; and Bowling Green, $25,000.

Dale Stump, Columbus attorney and head of the campaign, called the movement, "the most important step the Methodist church could possibly take in the religious training of our college students."

Three Mansfield ministers are attending the sessions at Lakeside. They include Rev. C. W. Stoneburner, pastor of the First Methodist church; Rev. J. Frank Stewart, pastor of the Central Methodist church; and Dr. John D. Green, superintendent of the district.

The conference opened Wednesday and will continue through Monday when assignments of pastors will be made.

Seeks Slash In Military Spending

Senator Would Cut Budget

WASHINGTON —(UP)— Sen. Ralph E. Flanders, R., Vt. yesterday proposed a $3,000,000,000 slash in the House-approved $16,000,000,000 military budget and said it can be done "safely" from a military standpoint.

His proposal calls for reducing the armed forces by 300,000 officers and men, a 48-group air force instead of a 58-group force and increased efficiency.

He said $851,000,000 could be saved by holding the air force to the 48 groups originally recommended in President Truman's budget.

Another $1,000,000,000 could be saved, he said, by reducing military strength to 1,300,000 officers and men. This could be done, he said, "by more efficient use of military personnel without impairing our military strength."

Flanders said $1, 150, 000, 000 could be caved by accompanying reductions in maintenance, operation, construction, civilian employment and other similar activities.

Flanders advances his money-saving proposals as the Senate economy bloc relied on a "persuasion campaign" to get action on a resolution to trim the federal budget.

Economy advocates in both parties are circulating a petition calling upon its Democratic and Republican leadership to speed the budget cutting resolution to the floor.

Action on the resolution, which would require President Truman to trim federal spending five to 10 per cent in order to balance the 1950 budget, was blocked in the Senate earlier this week by Sen. J. Howard McGrath, D., R. I.

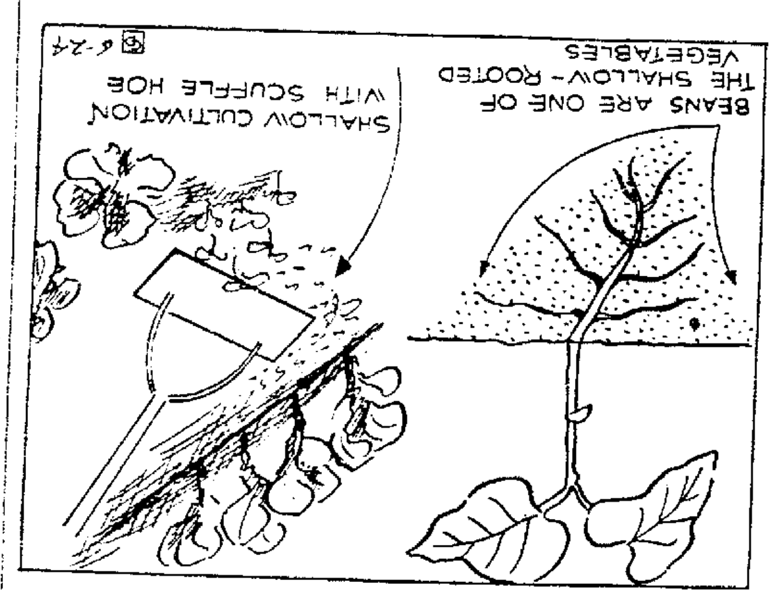
Get Early Start On Weeds



BEANS ARE ONE OF THE SHALLOW-ROOTED VEGETABLES
SHALLOW CULTIVATION WITH SCUFFLE HOE
6-24

By DEAN HALLIDAY
(Central Press Association)

Everybody knows you have to keep the weeds out of a vegetable garden. But not everyone gets busy and liquidates the weeds while they are still too young to fight back.

With small and slow growing crops such as carrots, beets, parsnips, kohlrabi, onion seed and others, attacking the weeds when young will greatly reduce weeding efforts.

A scuffle hoe, for example, will weed in an hour, today, what it would take two hours to do tomorrow. A scuffle hoe is shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph.

With a scuffle hoe one can "shave" or scrape the ground close to the rows without damage to shallow rooted plants. Beans, illustrated, are among the vegetables whose roots grow close to the surface of the soil and thus must be cultivated with care.

Weeding when the soil is slightly moist and the air dry and the sun bright is most effective. Be careful, however, not to tramp down the soil excessively or the job of cultivating will become difficult.

Should weeds be put on the compost pile or left in between crop rows? If the weeds have not flowered or produced seed pods, or are the types that do not re-root easily, such as purslane and crabgrass, it is good practice to leave the plants between the rows. This weed covering between the rows will not only act as a mulch but will help keep other weeds from germinating and when finally worked into the soil will add organic matter to it.

Weeds may be put on the compost pile if they are not infested with insect pests or diseased.

Slain Vet's Mother Keeps Engagement

BRIDGEPORT W. Va. — (UP)—Joe had promised to meet his English fiancee, Muriel Martin, when she arrived in New York. But his mother was there instead; Joe had been killed in France in 1944.

After his death, Muriel kept corresponding with Joe's mother, Mrs. Mary Eniez , in Bridgeport. Then, when plans were completed, Muriel came to visit America for an indefinite stay.

"The country here is wonderful," she said, "and different There is so much food and the people are so much kinder and friendlier than back home."

But she added, "I was terrible not to meet Joe when I got off the boat. He always said he would be waiting for me"

Club Opens Membership

SEATTLE —(UP)— The American Association of University Women threw its membership ranks open yesterday to applicants "regardless of race, color, creed or religion."

The overflow crowd that filled the Metropolitan theater shook the rafters with cheers as the delegates voted overwhelmingly to reject a proposal by the Washington, D. C., branch to amend the association's by-laws to bar Negro women from membership

Following the vote on the color issue, fought through courts for almost two years, the women re-elected Dr. Althea Kratz Hottel, dean of women at the University of Pennsylvania, as national president.

The color question was debated throughout the general session with many southern delegates enthusiastically supporting the stand that the by-laws should remain unchanged.

Convict Husband Of Killing Wife

COLUMBUS — (UP) — Clay Patterson, 27, Ironton, was found guilty of manslaughter for the fatal shooting of his wife by an all-woman jury here last night.

The World War II veteran admitted during the trial that he shot his estranged wife, Elizabeth, 21, during a period of "hot passion" when she told him she was having dates with other men. He was tried for first degree murder.

IT'S THE KNACK OF ADOLPH KNOERZER and others like him—added to superb ingredients and modern equipment—that makes Burkhardt's the beer that most people like best. Here Adolph keeps an eye on delicate filtering processes. Read his story below.

Knoerzer's knack bought him a home

Adolph Knoerzer's knack for brewing hails from Heidelberg. There, deep in the heart of Germany, he was apprenticed in a brewing trade. He prospered and married, and in 1925 brought his bride to the United States.

In Akron he met old friends and made new ones, and welded both closer to him with his golden voice. Beethoven . . . Mendelssohn . . . the great songs of the good old tradition roll from his gifted throat at his work, in his home and when he's featured in the songfests of the Akron Liedertafel.

Truly gifted is Adolph Knoerzer—both with his voice and with his knack for the brewing art. He joined Burkhardt's seven years ago and has been responsible for many jobs that go to make fine beer.

Pictured above, he's watching the pressure gauge that keeps him posted on the wort filtering job inside the brilliant stainless steel tanks on the platform. When it comes out of the filters, he wants it a beautiful amber, as clear as the finest crystal.

"What is wort?" you might ask Adolph.

"Well, it's pure water with dextrin and maltose, proteins, hops (for that heart-of-the-hops flavor), and mineral salts. And most of these are in the finest foods." He knows his brewing.

If you compliment Adolph on the cleanliness of his filters, he'll tell you, "Yah, but you should see the inside, too. Cleaner than my wife's pots and pans, I tell her. Wait a minute—I'll show you."

He's proud to do it, too. Just as proud as he is of the new home he just bought . . . of his married daughter and his son . . . of his wife . . . and of the favorite dish she serves him for special occasions. Good wieners and spaetzle.

We at Burkhardt's are proud, too. We're proud of the fine ingredients that go into these good brews, but they're available to any brewer.

So we're even more proud of the skill of our men. It's the extra—added to superb ingredients—that gives Burkhardt's its lip-smacking goodness, its delicious real-hops flavor that most people like best.

Corum's Column

By BILL CORUM

CHICAGO —(INS)—Swing high, swing low, sweet title.

In the same ring at Comiskey park here, where 12 years ago Wednesday night the true heavyweight boxing championship of the world swung to a sensational high as Joe Louis was crowned, it descended to a dull, drab new low in the so-called crowning of Ezzard Charles.

In the words of the old west, the '49'ers and the Comstock Lode, when you call this the heavyweight championship, podner, smile.

Perhaps Louis himself, who sort of handpicked Charles and Ol' Man Mose, Joe Walcott, to fight for his vacated title, best explained the feeling of a crowd of around 30,000 folks, when he said of Charles:

"Sho' does look like he could knock him out, don't it?"

And then when Ezzard had Walcott rolling and rocking in the only really exciting round of the fight, the seventh, Joe remarked: "I would, anyhow, of chased him."

At The End Of The Seventh. when Charles rocked and ripped the old man from Canden, I must confess that I though' he might be going to make his almost obviously inevitable victory noteworthy.

But, whereas Louis, who had Braddock plainly going in the seventh round twelve years ago took prompt care of Braddock, Charles was content to take good care of Charles.

If Ezzard's manager of record, Jake Mintz, hadn't recovered so completely from his dramatic faint in the ring as to be bouncing around the dressing room a few minutes later to chortle, "I'm all right, I've got the new heavyweight champion," I wouldn't write this. Because I'm not a fellow to make remarks about illness, which can, and does, overtake us all.

But, in view of Mintz' quick recovery and in view of the fight, may I cautiously suggest that maybe Jake fainted from surprise?

Because No Fighter In Boxing history ever won even a part of the heavyweight championship on a more desultory showing than did the Cincinnatian in the last eight rounds of this fight.

Through those sessions, Charles had a tired, arm and leg weary old man, who had run plumb out of gas, in front of him, but he all but pointblank refused to move in and punch.

Which, of course, is one way to make sure that you aren't going to lose. But in this instance, certainly wasn't one way to convince anybody that Charles is a worthy successor to the Dempseys, Tunneys and Louises, or even the Sharkeys and Schmelings in the heavyweight hall of fame.

I'm afraid, when we come right down to it, that Ezzard is just a journeyman light heavyweight, who today masquerades under NBA's too quickly extended world's heavyweight title and belt.

Tire Softball Winner, 8-7

A big inning helped Mansfield Tire defeat D. and M. Cigar Store in a postponed National softball league contest, 8 to 7, last night on the Mansfield Tire field.

The Tiremen pushed across six runs in the fourth. Dave Marks hit one home run and A. C. Jenkins banged two for the losers.

Joe Gordon Saves Tilt With Catch

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The Cleveland Indians seek their second straight victory over the Washington Nats tonight in Griffith stadium.

Bob Feller was to go gunning for his third straight victory in tonight's nocturnal contest, and if he gets as much support as Joe Gordon contributed in last night's 4-3 Tribal win, he probably will get by.

It was Gordon, who, with the tying run on third and the winning run on first and two out in the last half of the ninth, made a running, leaping stab of a line drive off the bat of burly Eddie Robinson.

The game appeared almost certainly tied up, but, although Gordon tumbled to the ground after his dive for the ball, he held on to it to end the contest.

And a tight finish it was. Cleveland led 4-1 going into the ninth, but the Nats blasted starter Early Wynn and relief-man Sam Zoldak from the mound with two runs before Frank Papish finally halted the evening's proceedings.

Up until that frame, Wynn had pitched skillful ball. However, the ex-National, who only recently recovered from a severe case of hives, tired in the ninth and needed help.

TWO IN FIRST

Cleveland staked the hefty righthander to a pair of runs in the first inning on consecutive singles by Dale Mitchell, Ray Boone and Mickey Vernon, and an infield out.

The Nats got to Wynn for one run in the fourth, but Cleveland came back with one in the sixth and another in the eighth.

Right-fielder Bob Kennedy accounted for the sixth - frame marker unassisted. He poled a 400-foot double, stole third and scored when Catcher Mike Evans' throw to the hot corner went wild.

The final Tribe tally came on a pair of walks sandwiched around Ken Keltner's single and followed by Wynn's long fly.

Clevelander Denies He'll Buy Indians

CLEVELAND — (UP) — George Creadon, president of the Standard Brewing Co., today denied published reports that he was heading a syndicate formed to purchase the Cleveland Indians.

Creadon, already a minor stockholder in the club, said "these reports are news to me. It's the first I've heard of it.

"I have no intention of enlarging my holdings in the Indians and I am not heading any group planning to buy the team."

Reports published last night said Creadon was heading a syndicate which would be ready in the near future to make a formal offer of $2,000,000 to President Bill Veeck for his team.

Veeck said he had heard rumors of such a syndicate being formed but had not received a formal offer. He added that he was making no attempt to sell the Indians but said he would "listen to any reasonable offer.

Ohio All-Star Basketball Squad Beats Kentuckians

BOWLING GREEN, Ky.—(AP)—Ohio's All-star high school basketball team won 39-32 over a team of Kentucky All-stars here last night. It was the third victory in two years for the Ohioans in games played by the two states' All-star teams. Ohio won two tilts last year.

The teams play again Saturday night at Middletown, Ohio.

The Kentuckians jumped off to a 9-8 lead in the first quarter, while the Ohio team led 20-19 at halftime. In the third period, with three minutes gone, Kentucky held a 25-20 advantage, but Co-Captains Bill Wilks and Merrill Hatfield started clicking at that point to put the Ohio team into the lead.

HEIGHT HELPS

Height advantage of the Ohio cagers paid off, especially after Kentuckians Don Dick and Frank Ramsey went out of the game on personal fouls.

Middletown Coach Paul Walker coaches the Ohio squad. Ed Diddle, coach of Western State college here, and Ted Hornback, an assistant coach, direct the Kentucky squad.

Tris Speaker To Speak For Presbyterians

Tris Speaker, one of the all-time baseball greats, will be the guest speaker at the Presbyterian Men's club father and son dinner next Thursday at the church.

In making the announcement Joe Lare, of the Men's club, said that Speaker's talk will be open to Mansfield school athletic teams and athletic clubs. Speaker appeared at the Presbyterian father and son feat last year. Speaker managed the 1920 Cleveland Indians to the American league pennant and the World's Championship.

Known as the "Grey Eagle," Speaker is probably the finest centerfielder ever to draw on spikes. The only modern day player to approach Speaker's coverage and all-around play is Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yanks. Speaker is the television announcer for the Cleveland Indians home games.

In addition to the appearance of Speaker, Lare said the Cleveland Browns promotional motion picture and films of the 1948 World Series between the Indians and Boston Braves whold be shown.

The father and son dinner will be a closed affair but the entertainment will be open to the followign groups: Hot Stove league members and players; Men's clubs of other churches; athletic squads of Senior and Madison high schools and youngsters from Jimmy Lymper's boy's club. The entertainment will begin at 8 p. m.

Assault Tries Racing Today

NEW YORK — (UP) — King Ranch's Assault, sporting a new right front hoof, launches his long-awaited comeback today in a $4,000 allowance event at Aqueduct.

Winner of the Turf's famed "triple crown" in 1946, Assault was forced into semi-retirement early last year because of an assortment of leg injuries. After proving unsatisfactory for stud purposes, the six-year-old stallion eventually rounded back into form and King Ranch officials decided to again race their star.

Top Athletes In Track Meet

FRESNO, Calif. — (AP) — The national AAU championships — biggest track and field show for the year gets underway here tonight with just about all the nation's top athletes on hand.

There are only two notable absentees from the field of 330 performers. They are University of Southern California's sprint star, Mel Patton, holder of the world 100 yard record, and Don Gehrmann of Wisconsin, top college miler.

Patton never intended to run here. Gehrmann withdrew yesterday. He is returning home for personal reasons.

Wooster College Guard Quits Grid

WOOSTER — (UP) — Art Schneider, regular guard on the College of Wooster football team the past three seasons, announced today that he would not return to Wooster next fall.

The North Canton gridder needs 15 hours to complete graduation requirements with a major in mathematics. He has enrolled in Wooster's summer session and the hours he needs at the end of the term will be taken by correspondence.

3 Mansfield Golfers Shoot In Publinx

Mansfielders Ted Etzel, Bernie Mathias and Pete Thoma finished out of the money in yesterday's pro-amateur, and amateur-amateur best-ball events, but all three got in tune-up rounds for today's opening of the Ohio Public Links championship.

The trio was to play 36 holes today over the 6070-yard Breathnach Country club layout along with 77 other aspirants to the state title. The low 15 scorers and defending champion Val Chiaverini will begin match play tomorrow morning.

Breathnach is a par 35-35—70 course, rated as a 69 by the Akron District Golf association. Heavy woods lining the fairways are the chief hazards to the reasonably short holes.

SHOOT 71 SCORES

Chiaverini and 20-year-old Tom Simon, both of Toledo, were medalists yesterday in the best-ball events with 71's. Joe Thacker, Seiberling Country club pro teamed with Jack Fitzpatrick of Akron for first place in the pro-am with 65. Simon and Harry Geisel, also of Toledo, topped the amateur-amateur with 67.

Ted Etzel led the Mansfield scoring with a 76 as he teamed with Guy Walden of Akron for a bestball of 74. Bernie Mathias had a 78 and Thoma a 79 for a best-ball of 72.

Two Unbeaten Loop Softball Teams Collide

The undefeated teams in the city softball program will be whittled down one more today when American Legion Post 16 and the American Veterans committee collide at 6:15 p. m. at Johns park.

The game is an International league contest and the winner will automaticaly take over command of the league. AVC has won four games without a loss while the Legion nine has won two.

Other games will send the Amvets against East Side Nite club at Prospect park and Westinghouse Engineers against Tom's Restaurant at Liberty. Westinghouse Clerks, in last place with four straight losses, hold a bye.

The list of undefeated teams in the city program have been cut to eight this week and three of those are girls' nines.

Young Shooters Wind Up Battling In 'Mibs' Tourney

ASBURY PARK, N. J. — (AP) — Fifty-two pairs of sore knuckles and skinned knees wind up a week-long quest today for the title of 1949 national marbles champion.

A queen as well as a king will be crowned from among the 48 boys and four girls from coast to coast who have been battling here in the 25th annual national marbles tournament—the world series of the "Mibs" ring.

Little Emma Miller, an Amish girl from Canton, O., clinched the girl's crown in yesterday's play. Dressed in Amish uniform of lace cap and flowing Mother Hubbard smock, she drew the largest galleries of the tournament.

For the champs there will be gold crowns and gold wristwatches. Others who play in today's final round will come away with bicycles.

The 52 taking part were selected in sectional eliminations sponsored by newspapers and civic groups throughout the country. The kinds range in age from 10 to 14.

Mansfield battles the undefeated Shelby aggregation at 2:30 p. m. with Dave Hardy or Gene Yohn ticketed to pitch. Winner of the Saturday game meets Plymouth at 1:30 Sunday in the double elimination joust. Losers of the Friday and Saturday games then play at 3:30.

Manager Dewey Durant will send a patched-up lineup into tomorrow's tussle. Regulars Norm Hughes and Russ Glenn are attending Boys' State at Ohio Wesleyan while Infielder Ronnie Williams and Pitcher Lowell Hess quit the squad this week. Dick Hoeppner, Senior high reserve pitcher, has been added to the Legion roster.

Jake Schmidt has replaced Williams at third. Jim Reiner and Pitcher Jack Howell have taken over for Hughes and Glenn.

Durant's starting lineup tomorrow will be: Ed Schmitt, first; Tom Tucker, second; Reiner, short; Schmidt, third; Ed Chelski, "Sleepy" Price and Howell, outfield and Ken McCally, catcher. Mansfield will leave from the Legion home at 12:30 p. m.

Seeks Slash In Military Spending

Senator Would Cut Budget

WASHINGTON —(UP)— Sen. Ralph E. Flanders, R., Vt. yesterday proposed a $3,000,000,000 slash in the House-approved $16,000,000,000 military budget and said it can be done "safely" from a military standpoint.

His proposal calls for reducing the armed forces by 300,000 officers and men, a 48-group air force instead of a 58-group force and increased efficiency.

He said $851,000,000 could be saved by holding the air force to the 48 groups originally recommended in President Truman's budget.

Another $1,000,000,000 could be saved, he said, by reducing military strength to 1,300,000 officers and men. This could be done, he said, "by more efficient use of military personnel without impairing our military strength."

Flanders said $1, 150, 000, 000 could be caved by accompanying reductions in maintenance, operation, construction, civilian employment and other similar activities.

Flanders advances his money-saving proposals as the Senate economy bloc relied on a "persuasion campaign" to get action on a resolution to trim the federal budget.

Economy advocates in both parties are circulating a petition calling upon its Democratic and Republican leadership to speed the budget cutting resolution to the floor.

Action on the resolution, which would require President Truman to trim federal spending five to 10 per cent in order to balance the 1950 budget, was blocked in the Senate earlier this week by Sen. J. Howard McGrath, D., R. I.

Get Early Start On Weeds

SHALLOW CULTIVATION WITH SCUFFLE HOE
BEANS ARE ONE OF THE SHALLOW - ROOTED VEGETABLES

By DEAN HALLIDAY
(Central Press Association)

Everybody knows you have to keep the weeds out of a vegetable garden. But not everyone gets busy and liquidates the weeds while they are still too young to fight back.

With small and slow growing crops such as carrots, beets, parsnips, kohlrabi, onion seed and others, attacking the weeds when young will greatly reduce weeding efforts.

A scuffle hoe, for example, will weed in an hour, today, what it would take two hours to do tomorrow. A scuffle hoe is shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph.

With a scuffle hoe one can "shave" or scrape the ground close to the rows without damage to shallow rooted plants. Beans, illustrated. are among the vegetables whose roots grow close to the surface of the soil and thus must be cultivated with care.

Weeding when the soil is slightly moist and the air dry and the sun bright is most effective. Be careful, however, not to tramp down the soil excessively or the job of cultivating will become difficult.

Should weeds be put on the compost pile or left in between crop rows? If the weeds have not flowered or produced seed pods, or are the types that do not re-root easily, such as purslane and crabgrass, it is good practice to leave the plants between the rows. This weed covering between the rows will not only act as a mulch but will help keep other weeds from germinating and when finally worked into the soil will add organic matter to it.

Weeds may be put on the compost pile if they are not infested with insect pests or diseased.

Slain Vet's Mother Keeps Engagement

BRIDGEPORT W. Va. — (UP)—Joe had promised to meet his English fiancee, Muriel Martin, when she arrived in New York. But his mother was there instead; Joe had been killed in France in 1944.

After his death. Muriel kept corresponding with Joe's mother, Mrs. Mary Eniez , in Bridgeport. Then, when plans were completed, Muriel came to visit America for an indefinite stay.

"The country here is wonderful," she said, "and different. There is so much food and the people are so much kinder and friendlier than back home."

But she added, "I was terrible not to meet Joe when I got off the boat. He always said he would be waiting for me."

Club Opens Membership

SEATTLE —(UP)— The American Association of University Women threw its membership ranks open yesterday to applicants "regardless of race, color, creed or religion."

The overflow crowd that filled the Metropolitan theater shook the rafters with cheers as the delegates voted overwhelmingly to reject a proposal by the Washington. D. C., branch to amend the association's by-laws to bar Negro women from membership

Following the vote on the color issue, fought through courts for almost two years, the women reelected Dr. Althea Kratz Hottel, dean of women at the University of Pennsylvania, as national president.

The color question was debated throughout the general session with many southern delegates enthusiastically supporting the stand that the by-laws should remain unchanged.

Convict Husband Of Killing Wife

COLUMBUS — (UP) — Clay Patterson, 27, Ironton, was found guilty of manslaughter for the fatal shooting of his wife by an all-woman jury here last night.

The World War II veteran admitted during the trial that he shot his estranged wife, Elizabeth, 21, during a period of "hot passion" when she told him she was having dates with other men. He was tried for first degree murder.

Boy Reverts To Fishing By Hand

CHILLICOTHE — (UP) — Fishing is fine in the Yoctangee park lake, where a state conservation division crew released 525 crappies, bullheads and suckers.

A boy, noting that the fish intended to stay in the shallow area where they had been freed, scooped up with his bare hands five suckers, a catfish and a crappie in just a few minutes.

"What's the use of fooling with this," exclaimed another youth as he reeled in his hook and line after seeing what his friend could do with his hands.

IT'S THE KNACK OF ADOLPH KNOERZER and others like him—added to superb ingredients and modern equipment—that makes Burkhardt's the beer that most people like best. Here Adolph keeps an eye on delicate filtering processes. Read his story below.

Knoerzer's knack bought him a home

Adolph Knoerzer's knack for brewing hails from Heidelberg. There, deep in the heart of Germany, he was apprenticed in a brewing trade. He prospered and married, and in 1925 brought his bride to the United States.

In Akron he met old friends and made new ones, and welded both closer to him with his golden voice. Beethoven . . . Mendelssohn . . . the great songs of the good old tradition roll from his gifted throat at his work, in his home and when he's featured in the songfests of the Akron Liedertafel.

Truly gifted is Adolph Knoerzer—both with his voice and with his knack for the brewing art. He joined Burkhardt's seven years ago and has been responsible for many jobs that go to make fine beer.

Pictured above, he's watching the pressure gauge that keeps him posted on the wort filtering job inside the brilliant stainless steel tanks on the platform. When it comes out of the filters, he wants it a beautiful amber, as clear as the finest crystal.

"What is wort?" you might ask Adolph "Well, it's pure water with dextrin and maltose, proteins, hops (for that heart-of-the-hops flavor), and mineral salts. And most of these are in the finest foods." He knows his brewing.

If you compliment Adolph on the cleanliness of his filters, he'll tell you, "Yah, but you should see the inside, too. Cleaner than my wife's pots and pans, I tell her. Wait a minute—I'll show you."

He's proud to do it, too. Just as proud as he is of the new home he just bought . . . of his married daughter and his son . . . of his wife . . . and of the favorite dish she serves him for special occasions. Good wieners and spaetzle.

We at Burkhardt's are proud, too. We're proud of the fine ingredients that go into these good brews, but they're available to any brewer.

So we're even more proud of the skill of our men. It's the extra—added to superb ingredients—that gives Burkhardt's its lip-smacking goodness, its delicious real-hops flavor that most people like best.

Corum's Column

By BILL CORUM

CHICAGO —(INS)—Swing high, swing low, sweet title

In the same ring at Comiskey park here, where 12 years ago Wednesday night the true heavyweight boxing championship of the world swung to a sensational high as Joe Louis was crowned, it descended to a dull, drab new low in the so called crowning of Ezzard Charles

In the words of the old west the '49 ers and the Comstock Lode when you call this the heavyweight championship podner, smile

Perhaps Louis himself who sort of handpicked Charles and Ol Man Mose Joe Walcott, to fight for his vacated title best explained the feeling of a crowd of around 30 000 folks when he said of Charles

Sho' does look like he could knock him out don t it?"

And then when Ezzard had Walcott rolling and rocking in the only really exciting round of the fight the seventh Joe remarked 'I would, anyhow, of chased him "

★

At The End Of The Seventh, when Charles rocked and ripped the old man from Canden I must confess that I thought he might be going to make his almost obviously inevitable victory noteworthy

But whereas Louis who had Braddock plainly going in the seventh round twelve years ago took prompt care of Braddock Charles was content to take good care of Charles

If Ezzard s manager of record Jake Mintz hadn't recovered so completely from his dramatic faint in the ring as to be bouncing around the dressing room a few minutes later to chortle 'I'm all right, I've got the new heavyweight champion," I wouldn't write this Because I'm not a fellow to make remarks about illness, which can, and does, overtake us all

But in view of Mintz' quick recovery and in view of the fight, may I cautiously suggest that maybe Jake fainted from surprise?

Because No Fighter In Boxing history ever won even a part of the heavyweight championship on a more desultory showing than did the Cincinnatian in the last eight rounds of this fight

Through those sessions Charles had a tired, arm and leg weary old man, who had run plumb out of gas in front of him, but he all but pointblank refused to move in and punch

Which, of course, is one way to make sure that you aren't going to lose But in this instance, certainly wasn't one way to convince anybody that Charles is a worthy successor to the Dempseys, Tunneys and Louises, or even the Sharkeys and Schmelings in the heavyweight hall of fame.

I m afraid when we come right down to it, that Ezzard is just a journeyman light heavyweight, who today masquerades under NBA's too quickly extended world's heavyweight title and belt.

Cleveland Slips Past Washington, 4 to 3

Joe Gordon Saves Tilt With Catch

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The Cleveland Indians seek their second straight victory over the Washington Nats tonight in Griffith stadium

Bob Feller was to go gunning for his third straight victory in tonight s nocturnal contest and if he gets as much support as Joe Gordon contributed in last night s 4 3 Tribal win, he probably will get by

It was Gordon, who, with the tying run on third and the winning run on first and two out in the last half of the ninth, made a running, leaping stab of a line drive off the bat of burly Eddie Robinson.

The game appeared almost certainly tied up, but, although Gordon tumbled to the ground after his dive for the ball, he held on to it to end the contest

And a tight finish it was Cleveland led 4 1 going into the ninth, but the Nats blasted starter Early Wynn and relief-man Sam Zoldak from the mound with two runs before Frank Papish finally halted the evening s proceedings

Up until that frame, Wynn had pitched skillful ball However, the ex-National who only recently recovered from a severe case of hives, tired in the ninth and needed help

TWO IN FIRST

Cleveland staked the hefty righthander to a pair of runs in the first inning on consecutive singles by Dale Mitchell Ray Boone and Mickey Vernon, and an infield out

The Nats got to Wynn for one run in the fourth, but Cleveland came back with one in the sixth and another in the eighth

Right-fielder Bob Kennedy accounted for the sixth - frame marker unassisted He poled a 400-foot double, stole third and scored when Catcher Mike Evans' throw to the hot corner went wild

The final Tribe tally came on a pair of walks sandwiched around Ken Keltner's single and followed by Wynn s long fly

Clevelander Denies He'll Buy Indians

CLEVELAND — (UP) — George Creadon president of the Standard Brewing Co , today denied published reports that he was heading a syndicate formed to purchase the Cleveland Indians

Creadon already a minor stockholder in the club said these reports are news to me It's the first I've heard of it

'I have no intention of enlarging my holdings in the Indians and I am not heading any group planning to buy the team '

Reports published last night said Creadon was heading a syndicate which would be ready in the near future to make a formal offer of $2,000,000 to President Bill Veeck for his team

Veeck said he had heard rumors of such a syndicate being formed but had not received a formal offer He added that he was making no attempt to sell the Indians but said he would "listen to any reasonable offer

Tommy Byrne Blanks Tigers on One Hit

Lipon Again Spoils No-Hitter For Yank

By JOE REICHLER, Associated Press Sports Writer

Lipon, .250 hitting Detroit shortstop, twice this season has blasted Byrne's hopes of pitching a no-run, no-hit game. Johnny first played the villain's role last May 8. Byrne had a no-hitter going through six innings, but Lipon greeted the New York Yankee lefthander wth a single to start the seventh. He collected the second of Detroit's three hits in the ninth, as Byrne came through with a 12-0 victory.

Lipon was all that stood between Byrne and a no-hitter last night at the Yankee stadium as Tommy hurled another 12-0 shutout against the Tigers.

A crowd of 55,591 had visions of the first hitless game by a Yankee pitcher since Monte Pearson shut out Cleveland 11 years ago as Byrne mowed down the Tigers without a safety for seven innings.

Then came the eighth—and up strode Lipon. Byrne threw a high inside curve. Lipon swung and the ball sailed on a line toward the left field corner. It landed just inside the foul line—fair by a foot.

The partisan crowd groaned as Lipon crossed first with a single—the only hit of the game by the Tigers. Six other Bengals reached base, all via bases on balls. Eddie Lake, Tiger third baseman, walked on each of his four trips to the plate.

Byrne was only one of the seven lefthanders who came through with flying colors yesterday. Rookie southpaw Maurice McDermott pitched the Boston Red Sox to a three-hit 7-0 victory over the St. Louis Browns. Recently recalled from Louisville, McDermott faced only 28 batters in chalking up his second victory.

KELLNER WINS 10TH

Alex Kellner—another rookie southpaw—registered his 10th triumph pitching the Philadelphia Athletics to an 11-4 victory over the Chicago White Sox. Kellner gave up five hits in becoming the first lefthander in the majors to win 10 games. The victory moved the A's into second place, one half game ahead of Detroit.

A leftshander—Joe Hatten—kept the Brooklyn Dodgers in first place in the National league, pitching the Brooks to a 7-2 triumph over the Reds in Cincinnati. Hatten allowed six hits for his sixth victory, half of them over Cincinnati.

Lefty Howie Pollet enabled the St. Louis Cardinals to stay within a half-game of the Dodgers, pitching the Redbirds to a 10-6 triumph over the New York Giants. Pollet needed help in the eighth from Red Munger in racking up his eighth victory.

Southpaw Warren Spahn, aided by a 15-hit attack against five Chicago pitchers, chalked up his ninth victory, pitching the Boston Braves to a 12-5 victory over the Cubs.

Lefty Curt Simmons went all the way for Philadelphia as the Phils swamped the Pittsburgh Pirates, 9-3.

The Phils executed a triple play in the third inning. With Ralph Kiner and Wally Westlake on second and first via a walk and a single, Eddie Miller grabbed Ed Stevens' liner, tossed to Shortstop Granny Hamner, doubling Kiner. Hamner threw to first before Westlake could scramble back.

Early Wynn was the only righthander to notch a victory, but even he needed help from a lefthander, getting it from Frank Papish in the ninth to receive credit for Cleveland's 4-3 triumph over the Washington Senators.

Madison Turns Back Bellville In Junior Tilt

Madison turned back Bellville, 4-3, in a Central Ohio junior league baseball game last night at Blue Goose park.

Jim Gatton, Belleville's lefthander pitched a good game but infield errors at crucial spots hurt him. For Madison, Jim McMillan gave up only two hits and struck out nine.

Dick Ernsberger, playing third base for the Rams, had a perfect day at bat with three for three.

BATTLE TO TIE

Mansfield Athletic club battled to a 5-5 tie with host Lexington in a league game yesterday. The contest was called by darkness at the end of eight innings.

Esker Jordan turned in another fine pitching job for the AC's as he struck out 11 Lexington batters. Otis Ivers tied the game for the AC with a base-clearing triple in the fifth inning.

Waitkus May Rejoin Phils

CHICAGO — (INS) — An attending physician predicted today that Eddie Waitkus, Philadelphia Phillies first baseman, will be able to rejoin his team this year.

Dr. L. L. Braun, Chicago Cubs team doctor, declared, however, that it had not yet been determined whether the 29-year-old ball player would be able to play for the club he sparked through the early part of the season.

Meanwhile, the girl who shot Waitkus down June 14, Ruth Ann Steinhagen, was placed under close surveillance in her Cook county jail cell to prevent a possible suicide attempt.

2 Church Softball Clubs Retain Undefeated Records

Park Avenue Baptist and First Congregational maintained their undefeated records in the Church softball league last night as they slugged out lop-sided victories.

Park Avenue won its fifth game by walloping First Christian 27-7 while Congregational copped its fourth over United Brethren, 14-9. Congregational led 12-1 at the end of the first three innings and coasted in.

The Baptists scored 13 runs in the fourth inning of their game and seven in the first. Maneese led the attack with five hits in five times at bat.

First Methodist edged Four Square Gospel 2-1 by pushing over a run in the top of the sixth after both scored one in the second. Maul of First Methodist allowed only four hits.

In the other game St. Matthew's trimmed First Presbyterian, 6-4, with a home run by Schmid, the big blow of the game.

Arnie Adams Ties For Third Place In Cleveland Golf

CLEVELAND — Mansfield's Arnie Adams finished in a six-way tie for third place in the first 18 holes of the 72 hole Cleveland Plain Dealer medal tournament here yesterday.

Adams carded a 36-37—73 for a one-over par score of the Columbia Hills Country club layout. The next 18 holes will be played next Thursday at Chagrin Valley and the final 36 in two weeks at Canterbury.

Dick Meister of Kirtland took the lead with a 41-30—71 while Steve Pipoly of Youngstown came in with 36-36—72. Meister had a seven on a par three hole the first nine and then went five under on the second nine.

The three other Mansfield competitors all finished out of the money. Dale Rose had 43-37—80 while Dick Hosler came in with 82 and Dick Koozer with 89.

Lone Amateur Still In Meet

OKLAHOMA CITY —(AP)—Amateur Polly Riley, a smiling five-foot Texan, stood in the way of three topflight professionals in their bid for the Women's Western open golf title here today.

Polly brushed aside the usually unconquerable Mrs. Babe Didrikson Zaharias in yesterday's quarterfinal duel, 3-1 to win a semi-final berth. Her opponent today will be professional Betty Jameson, San Antonio, who won the Western in 1942.

The other semi-final battle features defending champion Parry Berg and her staunch professional rival, little Louise Suggs, Georgia's representative.

Miss Jameson's 4-2 victory over Carol Diringer, Tiffin, O. was hard earned.

Sightless To Start Vacation

21 Blind Persons Will Go To Huron

By EILEEN DEWHURST

Twenty-one sightless Mansfielders will leave Saturday morning by chartered bus for a week's vacation on Lake Erie.

The vacation will be provided by the Salvation Army and the Mansfield Community Chest.

The group will leave at 8 a. m. from the Salvation Army citadel for their vacation lodging at Bert's Colonial villa in Huron.

While they are handicapped in some ways, members of this group are not helpless and they enjoy many of the activities of people with normal sight.

During the next week, the 12 men and nine women will take part in a recreational program of swimming, fishing, horseshoe pitching, checkers, dominoes croquet and other games.

One evening there will be a barbecue as a special feature. There will be lusty singing around a camp fire, and the blind will provide their own entertainment in the way of individual stunts.

Since many of the group are ardent fans of the Cleveland Indians, a radio will be taken along so they may listen to the games while they are away.

The accommodations for the group will consist of a man's dormitory, women's dormitory, administration building, and large kitchen.

Maj. William J. Jones will be in charge of the camp and will serve as director of recreation and swimming. Mrs. Jones will prepare the meals and supervise recreation for the women.

Those who will leave tomorrow have been attending weekly classes for the blind at the Salvation Army citadel. A dinner is provided for them at noon, and games are part of the weekly program. However, the annual vacation is the highlight of the year's program.

Some members of the group have attended the school for the blind in Columbus and are trained in such skills as typing, sewing, knitting, crocheting, chair caning. Others help to support themselves by operating stands selling candy and newspapers. During the war years some members of the group were employed in Mansfield industrial plants.

Goes To Chair For Slaying

COLUMBUS — (UP) — Barney Kenneth Davis jr., 24, walked unaided to the electric chair at the state prison here last night and paid for slaying a policeman.

Davis at first refused to permit Rev. K. W. Wall to walk with him to the death chamber.

"I came in by myself," he said. "And I'll go out by myself."

Rev. Wall walked behind the Cleveland man, however, and read the 23rd Psalm as guards fastened him into the electric chair with heavy leather bands. Prison regulations say a condemned man must be accompanied by a minister or priest.

One Boy Drowns, Brother Missing

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Columbus police today dragged the Scioto river for the body of a 13-year-old Scioto Country club caddy believed to have drowned with his 11-year-old brother.

The missing boy, Robert Pachlhofer, has not been seen since the body of his brother, Charles was recovered last night from the river near the country club at Columbus. The clothing of the brothers, consisting of striped yellow T-shirts and blue denim slacks, was found on a bridge abutment.

FALL KILLS PLASTERER

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Robert Smith, 65-year-old plasterer, died in a hospital yesterday after falling from a 12-foot scaffold in Public hall.

Family of 9 Fights Eviction From Home

CANTON — (INS) — Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cricks of Canton, parents of seven children, are seeking to prove unconstitutional a city ordinance which threatens to evict them.

The Cricks contend that the ordinance, which deals with the condemnation of unsafe buildings by city officials, is an infringement on the rights of property and freedom under the state and federal constitutions.

Greek Brothers Find America OK; Donate New Armory Site

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Two brothers who came to this country from Greece, almost penniless, yesterday turned over to the state four acres for the sites of a new national guard armory at Portsmouth.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche, receiving the gift on behalf of the state, shook hands with George and Harry Tessaromatis of Portsmouth and said:

"It is wonderful to meet you and know you've had such success. Thanks a whole lot."

The governor promised to "stop in and see you some day when I'm down that way.

George, 54, and Harry, 55, started business in Portsmouth 33 years ago as operators of a shoeshine stand. Now they own the Phoenix Pie company, which produces 55,000 pies daily.

Governor Lausche, receiving the deed for the armory site, turned it over to Col. Loren G. Windom, commanding officer of the 166th Regimnet. The armory will cost $200,000.

The governor chatted with the Tessaromatis brothers as photographers arranged for pictures. He asked them numerous questions about Greece.

The Tessaromatis brothers were accompanied to the governor's office by Mayor George W. Wear and Councilman John M. Salladay.
